

Leaders of World Join Mourning Americans at Kennedy's Funeral

Lee Oswald begins to collapse as a bullet from the gun of owner Jack Ruby, fired at pointblank range, smashes through the Dallas city jail building Sunday. Oswald, assassin of President Kennedy, died later. VERETT (AP) — Lee port. may have left. The newspaper quoted what it termed a reliable source as saying of President saying "This was a map of the City of Dallas Oswald had placed marks at major intersections along the motorcade route — three or four as I recall. There was also a line from the Texas School Book Depository Building to Elm Street. This was the trajectory of the bullets which struck the President and Gov. (John) Connally." The map may have constituted what police termed "major evidence" against Oswald in the Kennedy's assassination, but it was an incredible climax to the wildest weekend in Dallas history—a savage, sudden mo-

Security of Visitors Is Staggering

WASHINGTON (AP)—American security officers—still shaken by the assassination of John F. Kennedy—had the staggering job today of protecting some 27 heads of state and government, including President Johnson. Making the task that much more difficult was the fact that many of them walked in the slow procession behind Kennedy's casket from the White House to St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Cathedral several blocks away. To throw a screen of protection about them, officials used a maximum security plan drawn several months ago just in case, for guarding the foreign dignitaries in and around the cathedral. Army security officers, Secret Service agents and metropolitan police devised the elaborate arrangements last spring church officials recalled, against any eventuality the church might be required for an assembly of important personages.

Requiem Mass by Cardinal Cushing

53 Countries Send Their Statesmen to Cathedral

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sorrowing nation — and statesmen from around the globe — said farewell to the martyred 35th President today and commended to God the soul of "Thy servant John." Hundreds of thousands, many of them weeping, watched as Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widowed so young, followed the caisson part of the way on foot. Bravely she walked between Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy on her right and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy on her left. A black veil covered the beautiful face and draped the shoulders. The new President, Lyndon B. Johnson, and his wife Lady Bird walked behind the Kennedys. At the great stone steps of St. Matthews Cathedral—scene of the requiem mass, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston awaited her, his tall mitre shining in the crisp autumn air. By then, Jacqueline Kennedy had beside her, her two small children, Caroline and John, dressed in blue who had ridden to the great church. The Cardinal leaned over and laid his hands on their shoulders, as if in blessing. A few ranks behind Mrs. Kennedy strode one of the greatest assemblages of world statesmen ever seen. They came from 53 countries and included 26 heads of state or government. File Into Cathedral Towering above them all was the figure of President Charles de Gaulle of France, in his olive drab uniform. Quietly, behind Mrs. Kennedy, the great from abroad filed into the cathedral. There was Prince Philip of Britain, husband of Queen Elizabeth Queen Frederika of Greece and many others who had come from thousands of miles. Behind them came the U. S. Supreme Court, the Cabinet, federal officials, White House staff men. Just before the flag-covered casket was carried into the cathedral a band played "Hail to the Chief." Then, softly on the autumn air came the strains of hymns. Bagpipes Play And during the slow, final journey, the sound of bagpipes was heard — from the Black Watch Pipers who were among the dead President's musical favorites. At the Capitol, 240,000 persons filed past the bier before the funeral procession. The great copper dome of St. Matthew's Cathedral blue-green from decades of weathering glistened in a crisp, clear day as the cortege approached it for the requiem Mass. As the procession came by the White House on the way to the cathedral the Marine band played a dirge. Earlier, the strains of "Onward Christian Soldiers" had filled the air. The white horses pulling the caisson carrying the coffin plod-

while church bells tolled mournfully. Then at the White House, Jacqueline Kennedy set out on foot, leading the procession to the cathedral. President and Mrs. Johnson walked behind a line of members of the immediate family who followed Mrs. Kennedy. French President Charles de Gaulle was close behind, leading the foreign leaders. Warren, Ike, Walk. Chief Justice Earl Warren, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and others also were in the walking procession. Id Eulogizes Kennedy

(AP) — Government and women world joined today in services for President Johnson, saying he supported reactionary policies under Kennedy. Thousands of American soldiers attended memorial services in South Korea. Most of the 50,000 GI's were taken off duty to observe the day of mourning and attend the services. Japanese Emperor Hirohito sent Crown Prince Akihito and Crown Princess Michiko to memorial services at Tokyo's St. Ignatius Church. The government ordered the Japanese flag flown at half staff over all government buildings today and Tuesday. At U.S. bases throughout Japan the big guns roared final salutes over the heads of 50,000 servicemen and their dependents, assembled in a cold rain. Most of the 10,000 Americans on Formosa attended religious services for the President. Thousands of Chinese from all walks of life joined them. Nationalist China's flags also were at half staff. But much of the atmosphere of sorrow began to be tinged with disquiet that the assassin had been at least associated with the Communist party. Eulogy by Nehru Communist propaganda organs reacted immediately to the news of Oswald's killing with charges that he had been slain to cover up the real authors of Kennedy's assassination. The Red press and radio attributed both killings to extreme right-wingers. The Italian tricolor flew at half staff for the third day, and unions throughout Italy scheduled five-minute pauses of respect for the dead American. Indian Prime Minister Nehru and President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan attended a memorial service for the President.

Packers Beat 49ers, 28-10, On Sharp First-Half Attack

Starr Paces Triumph in Subdued Setting; Bays Gain Half Game on Chicago

Post-Crescent News Service
MILWAUKEE — The Packers rolled up an impressive 28 to 10 victory over the 49ers in County Stadium Sunday afternoon.

This ninth triumph — against two losses — was produced in a half, finally did on Lamar McHan's 11-yard pass to Lee McFeeling of everyone for the late President Kennedy.

The game was stripped of television, all commercial announcements, player introductions and all frivolity and the huge flag in left field was flown at half staff.

Crowd Toned Down
The big crowd of 45,905 seemed to be toned down — the fans really let loose with cheering only half a dozen times — when Bart Starr came onto the field with the offense at the start of the game, when the Bays scored their four touchdowns, and when the scoreboard flashed a 17-14 lead for the Steelers over the Bears.

The Packers actually gained a half game on the Bears, who salvaged a 17-17 tie, but it means nothing unless Chicago loses one or more of its last three games against the Vikings, 49ers and Lions. The tie virtually rules out the need for a division playoff if the Bears should lose and the Packers win their last three.

The Packers went right back to work today — normally an off day — to get ready for their Thanksgiving Day test against the Lions in Detroit. After the Rams and 49ers on the West Coast and Browns with three games to go.

Somehow, it didn't seem to matter much Sunday at Yankee Stadium. They played the game and 62,992 people paid to see it. If there were empty seats you couldn't tell from the press box.

On the way to the game, car radios told the shocking news of the most recent shooting in Dallas. The events on the field seemed far away, even from the press box on the 50-yard line.

Football? Did it really matter what happened at Yankee Stadium?

Sense A Mood
You could sense a mood of restraint in the crowd. They stood in awesome silence for a moment of prayer for President Kennedy. More people than usual joined in the signing of the National Anthem.

The men on the field had to be thinking the same thoughts but this was their bread and butter. The game was ordered played and they were there to do it.

"I didn't know how my men would react," said Wally Iemm, coach of the Cardinals. "But I knew the other team also had been subjected to as much television as us. Frankly, I didn't know if they could keep their mind on football. Because we were on the road and away from family and home, and were living in a hotel where there was nothing to do but watch television constantly. I didn't know what to expect."

"But we had to play the game. We had to do the best job we could. This is the way all of us make our living."

Over in the Giant clubhouse, Coach Allie Sherman didn't want to guess how his team had been affected.

"I had no idea," Sherman said. "I just have to evaluate our performance strictly as a football coach."

It was an unusual game, after played as though the men did have their minds on something else. There were nine fumbles.

Leclerc's 18-Yard Field Goal Erases 17-14 Margin

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Chicago Bears are still in first place in the National Football League Western Division today — mainly because of the finesse and brute strength of tight end Mike Ditka.

Ditka, the league's Rookie of the Year in 1961, showed his finesse by sailing through the air to make a diving catch of a short Bill Wade pass and set up Ronnie Bull's one-yard touchdown run which put the Bears ahead 17-14 in the second quarter.

However, it was the brute strength of the former University of Pittsburgh All-America which saved the day for Chicago.

Trailing 17-14 and with a second and 35 situation on the Bears 22 in the fourth quarter, Wade passed to Ditka who was surrounded by several Steelers at about midfield.

Caught From Behind
Stiff-arming some and bowling over others Ditka broke play free. Obviously tired by his efforts, Ditka seemed to be running.

Hailey Intercepts
Buoyed by a 37-yard pass interception by Dick Hailey, the Steelers evened the count at 7-7 in the second quarter with a six-yard touchdown dash by Dick Hailey.

However, a poor kick by Brown later in the quarter gave the Bears the ball on the Steelers 37 and they cashed in for the score six plays later, with Ron Bull slaying over left end from the 1.

With 31 seconds left in the period, Brown hit Roy Curry with a 31-yard touchdown toss to deadlock the game again 14-14.

Sensational Catch by Dick James Also Helps in 13-10 Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Washington Redskins whipped the Philadelphia Eagles 13-10 Sunday on a pair of field goals by Bob Khat and a sensational touchdown pass reception by halfback Dick James.

All the Redskins scoring came in the first half, with the defense turning back a Philadelphia final quarter rally that produced 10 points and came within five yards of a winning touchdown.

Washington scored in the first period on a 37-yard field goal by Khayat who made it 6-0 in the second quarter with a three pointer from the 22. Just before the half ended James leaped at the goal line to snare a pass from quarterback Norm Snead and fell into the end zone for a touchdown.

Scoreless Period

After a scoreless third period, quarterback Sonny Jurgensen playing for the first time since he suffered a severe shoulder injury five weeks ago, passed 25 yards to halfback Tim Brown for a touchdown and Mike Clark booted a 45-yard field goal.

The Eagles had a great chance to pull the game out in the final minutes after a wind-blown Redskins' punt traveled only 23 yards to the Washington 49. The Eagles moved to the 5 but a delaying the game penalty cost five yards, two passes fell incomplete, and Clark missed a 16-yard field goal that would have tied the score.

Snead completed 16 of 23 passes for 216 yards as the Redskins moved out of the NFL's Eastern Division cellar with a 3-8-0 record and pushed the Eagles, 2-8-1, into the basement.

Wisconsin Deer Kill Ahead of Last Season

BLACK RIVER FALLS (AP) — The kill in Wisconsin's nine-day deer hunting season appears to be running anywhere from 10 to 30 per cent ahead of last year.

More bears have been shot this year than is usually the

But the assassination of President Kennedy dampened the enthusiasm of the hunters and some went home to attend memorial services, cutting short their stay in the woods.

Deer tag registrations at Conservation Department check points placed the estimate for the first two days at 28,537 deer. This was based on a sampling of registrations in the various areas and extended to arrive at a statewide total. Registrations, however, run behind the actual total.

Snow Scarce
Hunting conditions were not too good. Snow was scarce, making tracking difficult, and a quick freeze in the wet woods made movement of hunters too

The Conservation Department's reports indicate that the west-central portions of the state had the best hunting during the weekend Registrations at dusk Sunday were estimated at 14,000. The north east section had an estimated 4 600 registrations, southern 2,000 east-central 1 899 and north-west 1 661.

In the Mississippi River region, the take was running 10 per cent ahead of last year

The Conservation Department estimated that about 214 illegal deer were confiscated and 182 arrests made.

Dean Zink, a special warden assigned to the Fairchild area, was hospitalized for treatment of injuries which he said were suffered when a hunter slugged him with a gun. The hunter was held without charge in the Eau Claire County Jail pending the filing of charges Tuesday.

Up 20 Per Cent
Hunting pressure was up 10 to 20 per cent in the west central section, averaging 20 to 50 hunters per square mile. Registrations were up 20 per cent with hunting best around Eagle River in Vilas County and Rhinelander in Oneida County.

In the southern zone, a two day hunt for bucks and does,

Tommy Mason Scores to Give Minnesota First Win Over Lions

BY LEW FERGUSON
MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL. (AP) - The Minnesota Vikings stormed 67 yards in the closing minutes with Tommy Mason running over for a touchdown that upset the Detroit Lions 34-31 Sunday in a National Football League game.

It was the Vikings' first victory over the Lions since joining the NFL three years ago. It also was the most points the Vikings have ever scored against Detroit.

Rookie defensive end Don Hultz recovered a Dan Lewis fumble to launch Minnesota's winning drive. It was Hultz' second recovery of the day and his eighth of the season, tying an NFL season record for opponents' fumble recoveries set by the Lions' Joe Schmidt in 1955.

Two great pass receptions by another Viking rookie, Paul Flatley, were the key gainers in the scoring march. One toss from Fran Tarkenton to Flatley went for 31 yards and another for 35. Mason went through right tackle to score from the 2 with 23 minutes left.

Six Receptions
Flatley ended with six receptions for 174 yards. He now has taken 48 passes for 818 yards this season.

The Vikings, who held leads of 10-0 and 17-7 in the first half, had to come back from a 28-17 third-quarter deficit.

Minnesota got within 28-24 on Tarkenton's 54-yard scoring pass to Gordie Smith and with one point at 28-27 when Fred Cox booted a 17-yard field goal before the third period ended.

The Lions' Wayne Walker raised it to 31-27 for Detroit Hultz with a 26-yard field goal. Minutes later Hultz recovered the Vikings' fumble to send the Lions' goalward.

The game ended in a wild scramble, with Detroit's Earl Morrall passing for a possible touchdown. He hit Terry Barr on the game's last play, but Barr was swarmed by a host of Viking tacklers at the Minnesota 11.

Morrall earlier had passed for two touchdowns and scored another himself on a short run to fuel Detroit's comeback from the first-quarter deficits.

The victory before 28,763 fans closed Minnesota's home season. Viking home attendance for 1963 totaled 260,558, up 4,479 from 1962.

Baxter Wins Crown in Cajun Classic

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) - Rex Baxter Jr. compiled a brilliant record as an amateur but in pro golf ranks he was frustrated until Sunday.

One of Baxter's biggest problems has been bad finishes but yesterday he fashioned back-to-back 68s to win the $20,000 Cajun Classic.

The victory in the marathon 36-hole windup broke the ice for Baxter, whose best previous finish was second in the Waco Turner Tourney in 1961.

He had rounds of 68-71-68-68—

275 over the 6,555-yard Oakburne Country Club layout.

Young Jack Rule Jr., the former University of Iowa swing-er, who had had a two-stroke margin after the first 18 holes had to settle for a tie for third place with Tommy Aaron at 278 as Bob Shave Jr. moved into second at 277 two strokes behind Baxter.

6-Figure Bracket
Most attention was centered on Jack Nicklaus, youngest member of golf big three, who cracked into the six-figure bracket in official earnings with a tie for fifth place.

Nicklaus, winding up his sophomore year as a pro, collected $1,050, pushing him to $100,040 in official winnings for the year.

Only Arnold Palmer, leader of the big three, has won more in bench completed 13 of 27 passes for 162 yards and two touchdowns. Both scoring tosses went to Collins, giving him a total of 10 for the season and erasing the club record of nine set by Dante Lavelli back in 1947.

Lou Groza contributed the other Cleveland points of three conversions and field goals of 24 and 10 yards.

Sam Baker booted a 20-yard three-pointer for the Cowboys but missed from 26 and 52 yards. Amos Marsh gave Dallas its first touchdown on a 20-yard run climaxing a 61-yard, six-play drive.

With the Dallas defender keving on Jimmy Brown, the big Cleveland fullback was held to 51 yards in 17 attempts, but his running mate, Ernie Green broke away for 87 yards in seven tries. Don Perkins paced Dallas with 77 yards in 17 attempts.

Passing Well
Meredith, who had been passing well as the Cowboys won two of their last three, had little luck. The Dallas signal-caller connected on 13 of 30 for only 93 yards. He had four inter-cepted.

Brown's 51 yards on the ground moved his league-leading total to 1,498 and left him just 29 yards short of his own National League record with three games to go.

The season's second smallest crowd here, 55,096, witnessed the non-broadcast game.

Packers Down 49ers With Big First Half

The Bay's first 82-yard TD drive and his rushing buddy Moore, rolled 33 yards. Starr hurled three completions—to Moore for seven, Ron Kramer for 12 and finally to Dowler, who hit the goal post as he caught the ball in an dthen whirled around Kermit Alexander to score. Jerry Kramer, who was shaken up early in the series, kicked the point.

After Davis punted twice and Norton once, the Bays went on another 82-yarder. Taylor led off with an 11-yard gain and Starr followed with a 14-yard scamper. Taylor ran six and Starr threw to Dowler for 11. Pitts moved a few steps to his left after taking the handoff and then passed to R. Kramer who bowled over Mike Dowdle and Abe Woodson at the goal line for 6. J. K. converted.

Get Good Position
Willie Wood tried the Bays' new fangled kickoff again, booting a "flat" ball from the restraining line — to give it a crasy motion and also keep it away from Woodson, the loop's top returner. The 49ers got good position on Wood's next kick and moved close enough for Davis' 32-yard field goal.

Herb Adderley brought the next kickoff back to the 33 and the Bays went from there to their third TD. Taylor and Pitts totaled 12 yards in two cracks, Starr threw to Pitts for eight and Taylor slammed four to the 49ers' 43. After Pitts lost seven running left end and gained 21 on a pass from Starr, Taylor shot off right tackle, broke from a group of 49ers just past the line of scrimmage and then received a strong block from R. Kramer to set him free on a 34-yard TD run.

J.K. converted at 9.34. Less than two minutes later the Bays had their fourth TD. Wood's kickoff was short to Cooper who touched the skittering ball. Frank Mestnik touched the ball before it went out of bounds and the Bays had possession on the 49ers' 27.

Short Thrusts
The 49ers started to play keep the ball in the third quarter, taking the kickoff and moving 38 yards before the Bays took it away on downs on the Packer 27. Lisbon and Smith gained most of the yardage with short thrusts. The 49ers had two fourth downs. Gary Knafele was offside on the first and then on the replay, McHan's pass to Bernie Casey was kayoed by Hank Gremminger.

After an exchange of punts, Jerry Kramer tried a field goal from the 25 but the ball was low and slammed into the line of scrimmage.

The 49ers put on another drive going into the fourth quarter but the Bays toughened and took the ball on downs on the seven. Old Joe Perry had a touchdown going but dropped McHan's pass on the five.

A 21-yard pass from Starr to Dowler and some good runs by Earl Gros, replacing Taylor, helped the Bays move but a couple of penalties stopped them and Norton barely got off a punt as the 49ers poured in. The 49ers were forced to punt back and the Bays finally took over on their own eight. After Gros made nine yards, Gros and Pitts lost 10 on two carries, setting up Norton's ill-fated run off punt formation.

Vince Puzzled By Packers' Turnabout

"He's all right. He just got a finger in his eye."

Despite the fact the Pack had barged to a plush 28-3 lead early in the day, the forthright Fordham alumnus evinced respect for the 49ers, declaring, "they played a real good ball game."

"Yes," he added in reply to another question, "we purposely kicked the ball flat off the tee to keep it away from Woodson (the 49ers' Abe, the league's kickoff return leader)."

The conversation turned to Thursday's rematch with the Lions in Detroit. Any special plans? "What can we do," Vince returned the question, "in two days?"

"If we could get our ball club to play a full game as we did in the second half today..." Jack Christian, articulate young over a thousand again. Last head coach whose problem was week, the Giants laid the ball just the reverse of Lombardi's down 6 out of 7 times and it was didn't finish the foregoing but the reference was obvious.

"That game against the Bears (a 20-14 upset victory) was you know he has a chance to about the only game we did. We took the kickoff and went right down and scored, just like the Packers did against us today. I think it's rotten but," Christian thought it took steam out of the Bears. And, if we had done that Woodson (if I were Lombardi, I today, instead of the Packers, it might do the same thing he would have been a completely different ball game."

A Different Game
"I'm not saying we would in pro football. I think by doing have won," Christians added it they're depriving the fans of realistically, "because we don't what they're paying money for have that kind of personnel, but But I guess he's not interested it would have been a different in the winning foot-

Out of respect to the quick Packer getaway, he was ory of President Kennedy, the convinced "When you've got a capacity crowd of 45,905 spectators quarterback like that, it gives tons stood in somber silence for you a big lift," said Christian-one minute before the opening sen "He's probably the most kick-

On the days we've played 'em, noon.

I think the Packers are a much better ball club than the Bears," the ex - Detroit Lion defensive ace asserted.

Asked if he felt the President's death had affected his players, Christiansen said, "I would rather not comment on it. Whatever I would say probably would come up sounding wrong."

He did observe, however, "I don't think it affects a man when he goes on the field to play. He goes out to do his job as best he can. When it's over and he has had time to think, it probably affects him. But if he thinks about it during the game, he shouldn't be out there."

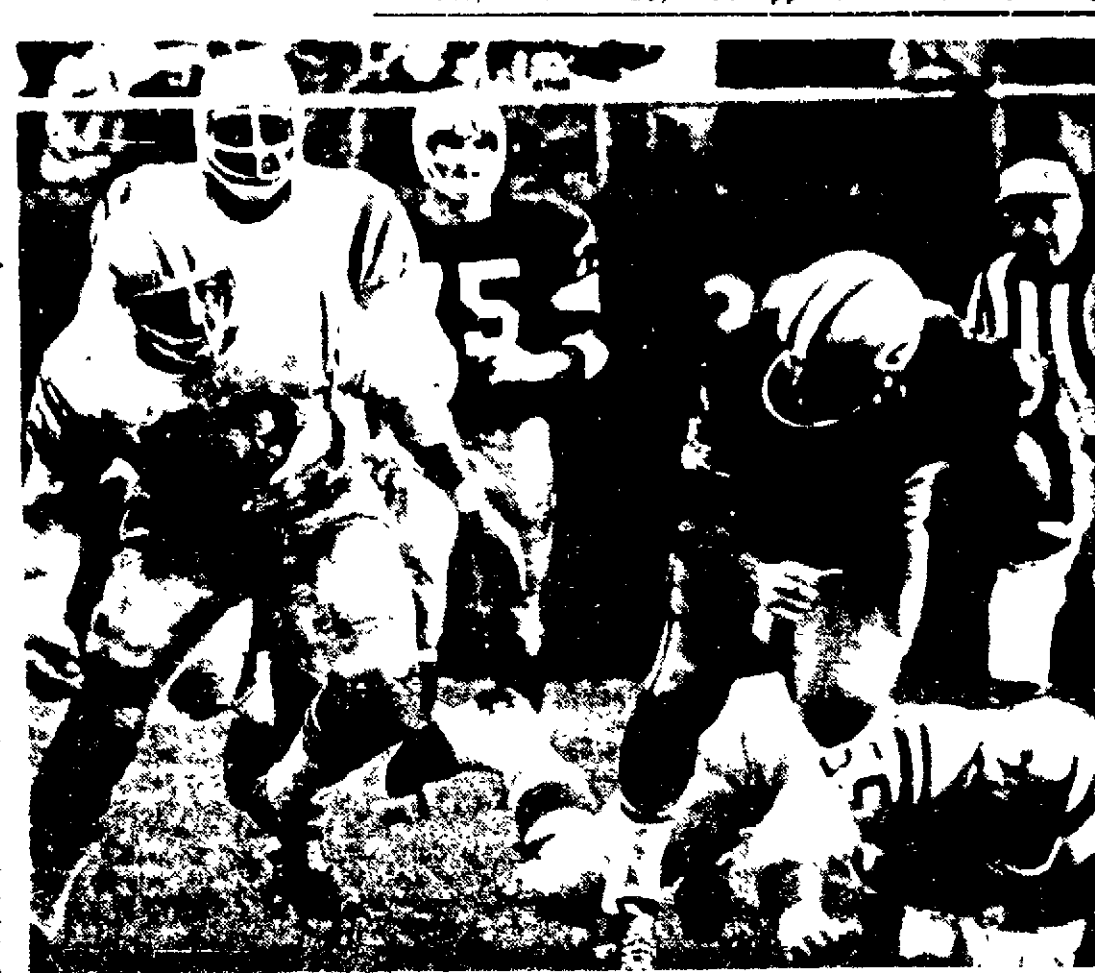

The Pack's "avoidance" of Abe Woodson, the 49ers' mercurial kickoff return specialist, was mentioned, causing Christiansen to note with a wry smile, "everybody doesn't want Woodson to run against 'em."

Like Walking Maris
"Last year, he became the first man to gain over a thousand yards running back kicks and he had 826 going into today's game, which meant that he had a good chance to go over a thousand again. Last head coach whose problem was week, the Giants laid the ball just the reverse of Lombardi's down 6 out of 7 times and it was didn't finish the foregoing but the reference was obvious.

"It's kind of like walking Ron (Maris)," he smiled, "when you know he has a chance to break a record."

"What do I think of it?" he asked, echoing a question "I Packers did against us today. I think it's rotten but," Christian thought it took steam out of the Bears. And, if we had done that Woodson (if I were Lombardi, I today, instead of the Packers, it might do the same thing he would have been a completely different ball game."

County Stadium quarters. Elijah Pitts was sporting a shy grin over what for him had been a large afternoon.

Reconstructing his 14-yard touchdown run in the second quarter, Pitts reported, "I saw Fuzzy (Thurston) take the first man real good, the line was blocking real well on that side—and the safety man coming over. I knew it was up to me to shake him."

Pitts, who also fired a scoring pass to Ron Kramer, explained, "the 49er defense had asked Fuzzy Thurston anxious-a slant or something to the out-ly. The reply was in the af- side so I had to pull up short firmative and both he and Dow- Se Ron was showing real well," ler groaned, a sound which soon he smiled, "by the time I was was echoing through the dress- ready to throw he was wide ing room—and Packerland. open"

Over in the 49ers' quiet quar- ters, ex-Packer Lamar McHan Jim Taylor, grinned and confid- ed, "yeah, I got lucky and broke off one of those stinkers. I got a chance to bump that safety man. Once you do, you're on thick of it," he added. "I want to wish 'em the best of luck. I want to beat 'em out on the your way."

Chided for fitting a goal post into his "pattern" on a first coast, of course, but otherwise quarter grab, Boyd Dowler in- deated that he doesn't expect to make it a regular route. Not really," he said with a ruelal man real good, the line was as far away as I can—it just doesn't move."

At this point, somebody near- by said, "Pittsburgh and the Bears, 17-17." "Seventeen-seventeen final?" He hadn't noticed any change, he concluded. "They're just like they've always been," he said, "a tough ball club."

NEW YORK (AP)—The fellow on the subway turned to the man on the next strap and said, "To tell you the truth, I don't feel like going to the game."

But he went. And so did 63,779 others—all that Yankee Stadium will hold—for the big battle between the New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday.

The Giants announced that any one who wanted could get his money back, but no one did. Instead, dozens of men met the people as they came out of the subway entrances in front of the grey concrete stadium and asked:

"Any extra tickets to sell? Any tickets?"

These fellows are always there. There are never enough tickets to go around for the Giants games, and there are always men who hope to buy some from people whose friends usually they shout their offers to buy. Sunday they were not so loud.

The people with tickets were not loud, either, and did not do any of the things people usually do who are going to football games, jabbering, waving, almost skipping along, full of the excitement of the day.

Many carried small radios. "Is he dead?" a man asked another who had a radio.

"Yes," the man with the radio said. "He's dead." He meant the man who shot the President, and was shot himself just before most of the people left home to go to the game.

"What kind of people are they, down there in Dallas?" asked the man, and he kept shaking his head.

"Maybe Sonny Liston was right," said the other man. "About being ashamed of America."

The game began. It was an important game, as football games go, but there was no life in it.

The players went through all for someplace to go.

the motions down there on the green field in the late November haze, but it seemed as if they were moving with the jerky movements of a man whose leg has gone to sleep and is trying to walk it back to life again.

The eye played tricks and slowed everything down. When there were cheers they sounded thin and unreal, as if they came from somewhere else far away.

A football was kicked into the stands and a couple of kids scrambled for it, but they didn't seem to care if they got it or some from people whose friends

The Giants lost, and it seemed somehow fitting, because their fans are fans who shout the roof right off the stadium when they win and they weren't going to about this day no matter what. The Giants lost, but it didn't seem to be a tragedy to anyone

Right to the End

The crowd stayed to the end, right to the end, as if the people had no place else to go.

And when the game was over they all started down the big sloping ramps at once, shoving and jostling, but they didn't talk about anything.

"Stop shoving," one man finally said to another. "Act civilized."

"I'm not shoving," the man said, but he stopped.

The crowd thinned out a little and the people walked through the gates.

"I wonder if they should have played?" a man asked the man next to him.

"I don't know," the other man said. "I'm not God. Where else were they going to go today?"

"Or maybe they were looking for someplace to go."

Barbara McNair, Who Hails from Racine, and Howard Keel co-star in the road version of "No Strings."

Miss McNair thinks the country isn't ready for this type of play which concerns a Parisian romance between a white American writer and a Negro American model. The play had a successful run on Broadway but the road show has been playing to increasingly small audiences since leaving Boston. (AP Wirephoto)

Road Show of 'No Strings' In Trouble

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I don't think the country is ready for it," says Barbara McNair of "No Strings," which has failed to repeat its Broadway success on the road.

Miss McNair is from Racine. She studied music at the Chicago Conservatory and UCLA before turning to popular singing.

"No Strings," a lavishly produced show with music by Richard Rodgers, concerns the Parisian romance of a white American writer and a Negro American model. Despite middling reviews, it ran for a highly profitable year and a half in New York, where Richard Kiley and Diahann Carroll were its stars. No problem piece, it is lively, escapist entertainment. The race issue is scarcely mentioned.

For the road tour the show was re-cast with film star Howard Keel and Miss McNair. A successful night club singer. She described the tour's progress.

Big in Boston

"We played to packed houses in Boston, and all of us were very excited. But as we started traveling, business kept getting worse and worse, especially when we got near the South. The worst came in St. Louis and Kansas City.

"Sometimes in Kansas City we played to audiences of 200 or 100—in a theater that holds 2,500! Everywhere we went there were walkouts, but no outcries, thank God. You could feel the hostility from some of the audiences. I understand there were many complaining phone calls to the theater.

"I also got some mail along the lines of 'How dare you kiss a white man on the stage?' and 'My entire party of 10 walked out.' Plus a lot of abusive words of course.

Show May Close

"The morale of the company kept getting lower and lower as we crossed the country until we finally had to have pep talks. Now we hear rumors that the show will fold here, although there are hopes that things will pick up when we reach San Francisco."

The show is scheduled to play Des Moines, Minneapolis and Chicago after San Francisco, but the cast hears rumors that it will jump directly to Chicago—if it doesn't fold entirely.

Miss McNair said she intends to stick with the show to the end, "has no regrets about taking the assignment."

"Far from it," she said. "It was a wonderful break for me."

Nick Skorich Appears Out Of Eagle Job

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The roof has caved in on Nick Skorich.

Only two years ago, his Philadelphia Eagles lost the National Football League's Eastern title by half a game. Today, the Eagles are in the cellar and Skorich appears out of a job.

There seems to be little doubt that whether or not the Eagles are sold, a new head coach will greet the Birds at training camp in 1964.

A reliable source has said that if the club isn't sold, Skorich is through anyway. A new owner is almost certain to clean the coaching house.

Top Candidate

Those close to the club feel that the leading candidate for Skorich's job is backfield coach Sonny Grandellus, who came here last year after leaving the University of Colorado in a recruiting rhubarb.

Sunday was the straw that broke the camel's back so far as Skorich is concerned. The Eagles lost to the Washington Redskins, 13-10, and dropped into the cellar.

Before the game, Skorich announced that defensive halfback Ben Scotti and tackle John Mel-lekas had been suspended without pay for a fist fight after a team meeting Saturday night. Both are in the hospital. Scotti with a broken right hand, Mel-lekas a severely beaten face.

Merely "Shrinking" Hemorrhoids is Not Enough!

Read how a clinically proven formula now brings more complete, longer lasting relief!

If you suffer from hemorrhoids, you have probably discovered that products which promise to "shrink" hemorrhoids do not always give prolonged relief. For, as doctors know, merely "shrinking" may not relieve discomfort.

That's why an advanced formula from Mentholatum Laboratories—M.P.O.—answers the need for a more complete home treatment of hemorrhoids. With more medically accepted pain-relieving ingredients than the leading hemorrhoid preparation, M.P.O. not only works to (1) shrink swollen areas, (2) reduce itching and (3) relieve pain, but also provides three important extra benefits:

First, M.P.O. is homogenized for faster absorption of its relief-bringing ingredients.

Second, M.P.O. fights infectious bacteria with the proven germ killer, Hexachlorophene.

Third, M.P.O. assures longer lasting relief through an exclusive stabilized base which prolongs the contact of soothing medication with the inflamed tissue.

Get M.P.O., sold without prescription at all drug counters.

Take a Look, America

Advanced Society Is a Myth of U. S.

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's through police lines to shoot down for the individual man, no matter who he is. Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley, and now Kennedy.

These crimes are a product of the American society where violence and talk of violence are the result of a so-called advanced society. This is an American myth, Americans have demonstrated once again.

Yet, supreme achievements of the Western world are supposed to be respect for law, democracy and orderly change in government, a fair trial, and freedom of free-trial, by a gunman who leaped through police lines to shoot down for the individual man, no matter who he is. Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley, and now Kennedy.

If President Kennedy had been the first president killed in office, it would be awful enough. It would mean one individual ignoring constitutional and peaceful change in government, decided to take the law into his own hands to eliminate an elected leader.

But killing American presidents, or trying to, is now as madman did kill a prime minister, Spencer Perceval, 151 years ago.

In that same period of almost 100 years not one British prime minister was assassinated. A madman did kill a prime minister, Spencer Perceval, 151 years ago.

It can't be argued the British worst criminal, even the killer among them the percentage of fair trial.

Even here in Washington, the nation's capital, there is growing uneasiness about walking the streets at night because of the number of people being robbed, stabbed, shot or dragged into alleys to be raped.

As long ago as 1900 B.C. an Egyptian king, Ramses III, looking over his own administration of law and justice said: "I made the land safe so that a lone woman could go on her way freely and none would molest her."

That's more than the United States can say today. 3,100 years later, even about the safety of its presidents. But the 18th birthday of the United Nations, he was surrounded by malevolence such as today are heaped upon tragedy.

Even here in Washington, the nation's capital, there is growing uneasiness about walking the streets at night because of the number of people being robbed, stabbed, shot or dragged into alleys to be raped.

Adlai E. Stevenson, twice a presidential candidate and now U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, found exactly one month ago, also in Dallas, that not even a man in his position was safe from some violence on the street.

After leaving an auditorium He said: "We do know that such acts are commonly stimulated by forces of hatred and cheap, that tragedy has been heaped upon tragedy."

Hate Spills Over

Stevenson, who has a fine sense of history, freedom and justice told her: "It's all right to have your own views but don't let them get on the side of freedom and civil war."

And Dr. A. Raymond Grant, a Methodist minister in Oregon, pondered what a misguided wretch "to murder the President" when Lee Oswald had been shot.

Dance Gives Voice to Creativity and Grace

Skill of motion and grace of action are the aims of the Creative Dance Classes at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center. The first eight-week session was completed Tuesday and the second will begin tomorrow.

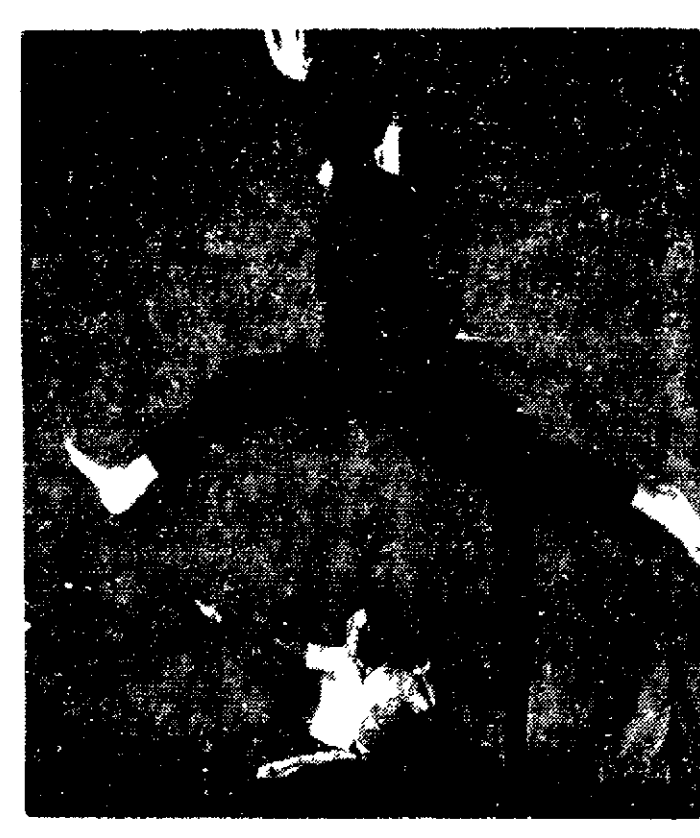

Children, college girls and adult women have held separate sessions each week, with some of their accomplishment goals similar and others designed to serve specific needs and desires. The children's group, taught by Miss Karen Lautenbach has been held in two sessions, the first for ages six to nine, the second, ages 10 to 13. Youngsters, during the first session, performed exercises for flexibility, strength, coordination, balance and good posture. They learned to walk, leap, hop and jump, working them into more complicated slides, skips and jumps. Dance steps were taught from these simple movements.

Aroma Key to Thanksgiving Day Feast

Post-Crescent Food Editor

The cooking and baking for Thanksgiving, like Christmas, always seems more fragrant than at other times of the year. That's because it's true. Recipes of the coming holiday season, both native American and imported, make liberal use of spices . . . from stuffing for the bird to pumpkin desserts.

Remember, say the experts, that the aroma of Thanksgiving in the kitchen is really the key to flavor of holiday efforts. We taste only sweet, sour, salt and bitter. The rest of what we call flavor is up to the aromas of foods. They nudge the appetite while the foods are cooking and when they come to the table all spruced up in holiday dress, they give the enjoyment we're expecting.

Suggestions for Thursday's feast include a deliciously herbed chicken . . . sweet potatoes in orange cups to go with roast turkey . . . and a pumpkin pudding as a dessert.

So here's to a festive Thanksgiving and a hearty appetite.

SWEET POTATOES IN ORANGE CUPS

- 3 oranges
 - 6 medium sweet potatoes, cooked and peeled
 - 4 tablespoons butter
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - Orange slices, quartered
- To prepare orange cups, trace a line around center of orange. Insert paring knife in line at an angle to make one side of a point; cut through to center. Remove knife; cut opposite side of point. Continue cutting around orange making decorative points. Pull halves of orange apart and ream juice. Measure one-half cup juice for use in recipe; chill rest for other uses.

Mash sweet potatoes; add butter, salt and half-cup of orange juice. Place over low heat for one minute. Pile into orange cups. Top potatoes with quarter orange slices. Serve with turkey, ham, chicken or pork.

HERBED CHICKEN

- 3 pound ready-to-cook chicken
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
- 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 1/2 teaspoon instant garlic powder
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 2 fresh tomatoes, chopped
- 1 cup chicken broth
- 6 chicken livers
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 cup cold water

Cooked rice or noodles. Wash chicken and cut into serving-size pieces. Combine salt, pepper, poultry seasoning and garlic powder; mix well (shaking in paper bag one way to mix). Rub seasonings on all sides of chicken pieces or shake pieces in mixed seasonings in bag. Brown chicken in hot melted butter and shortening, adding the shortening as needed. Brown on all sides. Add tomatoes and cook until thick and mushy, about five minutes. Add chicken broth (or one chicken bouillon cube dissolved) in one cup boiling water. Add chicken livers. Mix flour with quarter-cup of Poultry seasoning, which is a blend of thyme, sage, marjoram, savory and sometimes rosemary, makes economical chicken a wonderful choice for the holiday dinner. This Herbed Chicken above also has a touch of garlic to make it a flavorful, special-day dish. Serve with cooked rice or noodles.

There's More to pumpkin than the familiar pie. At the left is a delicious Harvest Pumpkin Pudding that's a new way to enjoy the traditional treat. The pudding combines the rich and yellow pumpkin . . . canned or cooked fresh . . . with molasses and spices and then a Sugar Crunch Topping and marshmallows.

cold water until mixture is smooth; add to chicken. Cover and cook over low heat for 45 minutes. Serve with rice or noodles.

PUMPKIN HARVEST PUDDING

- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/3 cup molasses
- 1/3 cup softened butter
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1 1/2 cups light cream
- 3/4 cups canned pumpkin
- Sugar Crunch Topping
- 1 cup miniature marshmallows

Except for topping and marshmallows, thoroughly mix all ingredients. Pour mixture into greased, 2-quart casserole; spread top with Sugar Crunch

Remove from oven and spread marshmallows over top of pudding. Place under broiler for one minute, or just long enough for marshmallows to brown slightly and start to melt. Serve warm. A spoonful of vanilla ice cream may be placed on top of each warm serving of pudding as a sauce. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

SUGAR CRUNCH TOPPING

- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
 - 1/2 cup cereal crumbs
 - 1/2 cup brown sugar
 - 2 tablespoons molasses
 - 2 tablespoons butter
- Mix together all ingredients. Spread over top of pudding before baking.

Medical Assistants Elect New Officers

Mrs. Ronald Liest was elected president of the Outagamie County Medical Assistants Society Wednesday evening in the staff room at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Serving as president-elect will be Mrs. Earl Burr; recording secretary, Mrs. William Gillespie; corresponding secretary, Miss Ann Peotter, and treasurer, Miss Janice Wiesner.

The program, "A Doctor's View of a Good Medical Assistant," was presented by Dr. C. E. Fenlon. Plans were completed for a Christmas party Dec. 11 at the Elks Club. Cocktails will be served at 5:30 and dinner at 6:30 p.m. Installation of officers will take place.

Modern Turkey Plumper Than Holiday Bird of Yesteryear

The modern turkey, is more plump than its earlier cousins who strutted through the United States in days gone by. It is just 100 years ago that the first Thanksgiving feast was held, a harvest meal which has become a tradition in our country. While that turkey has changed in meatiness, the meal pattern has actually changed very little . . . the squash and pumpkin, the corn, so plentiful this year, the potatoes with that wonderful giblet gravy, and the bright red cranberries still remain popular for Thanksgiving meals.

Approximately 93 million turkeys were raised this year, about the same as last year, with the majority of those birds of the "heavy" type — lots of meat to the proportion of bone.

Retail prices of turkey are expected to run very close to the prices of last year, bringing the cost per serving (not per person) about 19 to 21 cents.

There are turkeys of all sizes and grades available. A turkey which has a USDA grade label on it is Grade A if the turkey is full-fleshed and meaty with a good layer of fat to keep it tender and juicy. If there is a lack of meatiness, or any noticeable blemish on the bird, it has a USDA Grade B or C rating.

These birds are just as nutritious as the higher quality birds . . . they just do not have the same plumpness and fine appearance. If the turkey has not been graded, look for the marks of quality as described for Grade A turkeys above, giving the assurance of the best possible buy for the turkey dollar.

Frozen Birds

Many birds are sold frozen. In the long run, the freezing of turkeys has actually regulated consumer prices to a great extent. When turkeys can be readied for Thanksgiving earlier in the year, fast frozen to preserve a high fresh quality, they are not as subject to last-minute price changes to a great extent. Thus, the consumer profits from this frozen industry.

Time must be allowed, of course, for the thawing process. Also room must be available in the refrigerator for the turkey during the thawing time. It can be thawed more quickly by leaving it under cold, running water for a few hours, left in the plover film wrap. Generally, the best results will be obtained by leaving the turkey in the refrigerator.

For turkeys weighing 20 pounds and over, that process may well take two to four days. Once thawed, the turkey can remain in the refrigerator at 38 degrees for one or two days. Once thawed, it is important to remove the plover film wrap and loosely cover the turkey with waxed paper or other wrap . . . the turkey does need to "breathe" once it has thawed, just as does any other fresh meat or poultry.

No Lacing Needed

The method of drawing turkeys today does away with the sewing or lacing of the body cavity once the favorite stuffing has been loosely added. Pushing the drumsticks under the band of skin at the tail, or tying them to the tail with a soft string will keep the legs down and help keep stuffing in place.

It has been found that turkey loosely covered in the oven will provide more juiciness and tenderness and less browning than does the bird that remains uncovered throughout the roasting process.

A loose covering with cheesecloth soaked in fat with additional fat provided in the form of basting during the roasting process is excellent, or a piece of aluminum foil placed tent-fashion over the bird.

Some like to roast turkey in a covered roasting pan, which does help to cut down on the total roasting time. However, the turkeys are not as "table attractive." If a shiny roasting pan is used, the total roasting time should be increased by one hour.

BRIGHT IDEAS

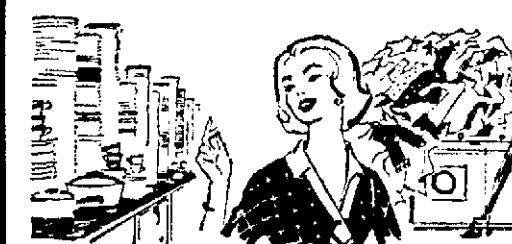

. . . from Our HOME SERVICE DEPT.

Thomas Jefferson was not only the author of the Declaration of Independence, but of a cookbook, as well. He filled the blank pages of a Virginia cookbook with his favorite recipes and some he made up. And it was he who introduced both broccoli and ice cream to his Washington friends.

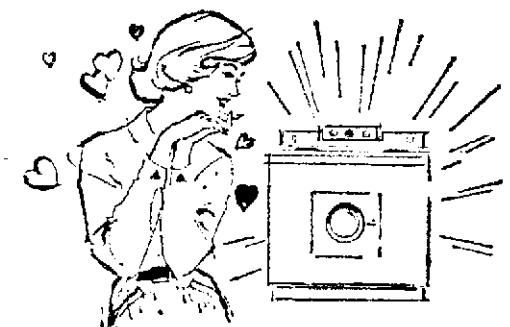

How to vacuum small throw rugs without rumping: stand on one end of the rug, pushing cleaner away from you, lifting or tilting it at edge of rug to return for another stroke.

The average homemaker washes 15,000 dishes a year for an average family of four. She also washes and irons a ton or more of laundry, prepares more than a thousand meals, cleans miles of rugs. And, if she has modern electric dishwasher, range, washer, dryer, etc., can do it all with a smile!

Did you know that our country produces more electric power than the next five countries combined? The Nation's investor-owned companies—this company is one of them—are planning and building to make sure you will always have plenty of low-cost electricity.

Thaw frozen baked goods by letting them warm to room temperature before unwrapping. This keeps moisture from condensing on them, prevents sogginess.

Your electric clothes dryer helps you these extra ways:

Dampens dry clothes for ironing.

Tumbles clothes taken from storage to rid them of mothproofing odors.

Fluffs and airs bedding, pillows, blankets in just a few minutes.

Warms baby's clothes before you start to dress him.

And all at the cost of just a few pennies!

Just count the ways you use electric service every day. It is the key to modern living—on the job day and night, around the calendar. Can you think of anything else that does so much yet costs so little?

Steer Away From Play Illusion

Many years ago, before my professors knew that I played bridge, they gave me an intelligence test. "Which line is longer?" they asked, and "Which square is bigger?" They were trying to fool me with optical illusions, never realizing that the best optical illusions are made out of 52 cards.

spades. Then he could ruff two diamonds in dummy and give up only one club.

Chasing this will-o-the-wisp, South cashed his high spades, led to dummy's ace of diamonds, and then faced the problem of getting back to his hand. The club finesse was the only reasonable answer. West won with the king of clubs and returned his third trump.

Falls to Pieces
The hand now fell to pieces. South had two losing diamonds, and dummy had only one trump to take care of them. Something had to yield, and it turned out to be South. He yielded 100 points to the opponents.

The optical illusion caused South to stake his slam on the club finesse. If it worked, he would make the slam. If it failed, he would go down. He had only an even chance.

South's best plan is to take two finesses rather than one. He should draw a third round of trumps and try a finesse with the queen of diamonds. If it works (as it would in this case), he is home; otherwise, he falls back on the club finesse. South makes his contract if either finesse works and thus has odds of 3 to 1 in his favor instead of just even money.

A Lovelier You
By Mary Sue Miller

Winter Skin
A lovely asks: What can I do to prevent dry, chapped legs? I am plagued by the condition every winter. Sometimes the skin feels sensitive and sometimes itches like the end of a sunburn. I've used body lotions, but to no avail.

The Answer: The disorder is the skin's natural oil supply to a point where dryness and its side effects become a problem. A new remedial approach is a dermalubrant, in the form of water-soluble bath oil. Formulated with phospholipids and polyunsaturated oil — ingredients that closely simulate the properties of normal skin — a dermalubrant films the skin with oil and induces the penetration of moisture. Regular use helps to soften and smooth the skin, and to reduce irritations.

And use is pleasant, even relaxing. You simply dribble in the oil while the tub fills. You wash as usual; then you lie back and take a ten-minute soak. As an afterthought, there is no greasiness — not even a residue in the tub. Just a silkier you!

It must be remembered, however, that the remedy may only be a supplement to the cure of a severe dry condition. A persistent case requires and must have medical treatment.

A Lovelier Complexion
Whatever your skin problems, to find a solution send for my booklet, "A Lovelier Complexion." Detailed advice contained includes the correct care for dry, oily, combination and normal skin types; proper application methods; treatments for blackheads, enlarged pores, circles, wrinkles, crepiness, etc. For your copy of "A Lovelier Complexion," write Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost and handling.

SEAMS TO ME Make Tree Ornaments

By Patricia Scott

Styrofoam balls decorated with ribbon and gold braid make beautiful tree ornaments. They can also be hung in clusters over doors or a fireplace for a really festive Christmas look.

Figure A: You'll need 4-inch diameter styrofoam ball; 1½ yd. velvet or satin ribbon ¾ inch wide in color A; 1½ yd. velvet or satin ribbon ¾ inch wide in color B; 3 yd. metallic gold puff braid; 1/3 yd. metallic gold middy braid; glue or short pins.

To Make:
1. Mark lines on ball dividing it into four equal parts.
2. Glue four bands of ribbon vertically using one color in each section. Cut ends to avoid overlapping.

3. Glue rows of puff braid in each section where ribbons meet. Avoid excessive overlapping of braid. Glue two final rows around complete ball at section divisions.

4. Cut 5½ inches middy braid. Form loop and insert pin at an angle to top of ball. Tie bow with remaining 6½ inches of middy braid and hand tack to top of loop.

Note: Short pins may be used in place of glue. Be sure to conceal pin heads.

width in color A; 1½ yd. velvet or satin ribbon ¾ inch wide in color B; 1½ yd. metallic gold regular rickrack; 1½ yd. metallic gold baby rickrack; 2½ yd. metallic gold middy braid; glue or short pins.

To Make:
1. Mark lines on styrofoam ball dividing it into 8 equal parts.
2. Color A: Glue ribbon vertically over lines starting and ending ¼ inch from center top and bottom. Glue ribbon vertically over center of each ribbon. Glue middy braid at each ribbon edge.
3. Color B: Glue ribbon vertically between color A starting and ending ¼ inch from center top and bottom, having 3 on each side. Glue last band around complete ball. Glue regular rickrack over center of each.
4. Cut 5½ inches middy braid. Form loop and insert pin at an angle to top of ball. Tie with remaining 6½ inches of middy braid and hand tack at top of loop.

Note: Short pins may be used in place of glue. Conceal pin heads.

New President Goes Last Miles With John Kennedy as Leader

Johnson Now Setting His Own Course; Begins With Meeting World's Leading Statesmen

BY RAYMOND J. CROWLEY — first round of personal diplomacy as President.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson traveled the last miles with John F. Kennedy today — and then set his own course in meetings with a massive array of world statesmen.

Everyone watched for clues as to how Johnson would get along with President Charles de Gaulle of France. De Gaulle differed from Kennedy on such great questions as NATO, the European Common Market, and the French government's insistence on its own nuclear force.

Whether Johnson, noted as a master persuader when he was the Democratic leader of the senate, would get together with De Gaulle on an in-depth discussion of world affairs was not yet certain. But the possibility remained.

Sad Task

First came the sad task of accompanying the martyred President Kennedy's body to the grave. Part of the journey was made afoot, from the White House to St. Matthews Cathedral for the requiem mass, then by car to Arlington National Cemetery, for a hero's burial.

After the funeral, Mrs. Kennedy was to receive the foreign dignitaries at the White House. Then Johnson plunges into his

Dallas Degraded Twice While Trying to Show Its Best Face

Metropolitan Center of Million People Is a Citadel of Political Conservatism

BY ROBERT H. JOHNSON JR. Philadelphia, Boston or Indianapolis.

DALLAS (AP)—In the space of 48 hours, this sparkling metropolis—while trying desperately to show its best face to the world—was degraded twice.

The first time, authorities said, it was by a ne'er-do-well, self-styled Communist with a mail-order rifle: Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, born in New Orleans, charged with the assassination Friday of President Kennedy.

The second time, it was by a small-time, brawling strip joint owner who killed the Communist despite a police cordon: Jack Ruby, 52, born Rubinstein in Chicago, who took it upon himself to act for the courts Americans cherish and shot down Oswald Sunday.

Deep Grief

Dallas reacted with deep grief and shame to President Kennedy's death.

The reaction to Oswald's death was more complex. Some openly said the killing was a good thing. Others, secretly, thought it. But over most the weight of shame settled more heavily.

The burden of conscience became enormous. That it could happen here!

Dallas has a metropolitan population of more than one million. Its big growth came when Northern and Eastern manufacturers began moving their industrial plants to the city.

It is now a cosmopolitan city. But it is, indeed, a citadel of political conservatism at certain levels—just as a matter of fact, as areas in New York.

Kennedy's Top Legislation to Be Sidetracked

Congress Wants to Give Johnson Time To Adjust Himself

BY WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tax reduction and civil rights, President Kennedy's top legislative proposals, appeared likely today to be temporarily sidetracked by a drive to adjourn Congress and give President Johnson a breathing spell.

The push for early adjournment was led by House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and had substantial backing from members of both parties who believe Congress should adjourn and engage in no more bickering this year. The two pending proposals are the most controversial in Congress.

Adjournment Date

Halleck's adjournment target is Dec. 14. Democratic leaders have called for continuation of the session until Jan. 3, with a Christmas recess of two weeks.

Memorial Services

Wisconsin Joins Kennedy Mourners

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin joined a saddened world today in mourning the loss of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Virtually all of Wisconsin's educational institutions and many of its business and industrial plants closed in observance of memorial and funeral services for Mr. Kennedy. Other retail stores were scheduled to open later in the day.

Gov. John W. Reynolds has declared a 30-day period of state mourning to end at sundown Dec. 22.

Offices Closed

All state offices were closed today along with local government offices throughout the state. No mail deliveries were made.

Reynolds and his wife, along with the Patrick J. Lucey, former Wisconsin Democratic chairman, flew to Washington to attend the President's funeral.

The University of Wisconsin at Madison and Milwaukee, the nine state colleges and Marquette University, along with most of the private colleges in the state, were closed.

Services Slated

Memorial services were scheduled for 3 p.m. in front of Bascom Hall on the Madison campus. Jacob F. Friedrick of Worcester, The Militant. There was no evidence that showed Oswald was a member of the Communist party, Wade said. "However, there was lots of material dealing with communism, such as the Daily Worker, and there was even more material dealing with the Fair Play for Cuba organization."

Prosecutor Airs Murder Evidence Against Oswald

BY PEGGY SIMPSON

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "This is it—I've sent men to the electric chair on less evidence than we have against Lee Harvey Oswald."

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade made the claim as he revealed the evidence which convinced Dallas officers they had an airtight case against the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

"There is no doubt in my mind that Oswald was the killer," Wade said.

Map in Room

Nine hours before Wade spoke to newsmen Sunday night, Oswald, 24, was fatally shot by Jack Ruby, owner of a Dallas lounge. The shooting occurred in the police headquarters basement in front of hundreds of police, Secret Service, FBI men and newsmen, as Oswald was being escorted to an armored car for transportation to new jail quarters.

Not long after Wade finished describing what he said was all the evidence against Oswald, the Dallas Morning News said in a copyrighted story that officers had found a map in Oswald's room which marked the path of the bullets which killed Kennedy and wounded Texas Gov. John Connally Friday afternoon. Wade had made no mention of this.

The newspaper said the map outlined Kennedy's motorcade route, and a line was drawn from the Texas School Book Depository building to Elm Street, where the President and Connally were shot.

Police officers available said they knew nothing of any map. In Washington, the Secret Service and FBI had no comment.

Wade said two facts stood high in the mass of evidence linking the slim, brown-haired Oswald to the slaying.

First, a palm print on the underside of the rifle which fired the bullets that killed Kennedy was identified as Oswald's.

Secondly, Wade said, Oswald had definitely been placed inside the building at the time the shots were fired from there at Kennedy.

"The gun was here, his prints were on the gun, the gun was the gun that killed Kennedy, his palm prints were on the box on which the killer sat, and witnesses put him on the sixth floor at the time of the shooting."

Asked if he believed Oswald was slain to keep him from talking, Wade said police were looking into that angle, but so far no connection has been established between Oswald and Ruby.

Seeks Death Penalty

"There is no concrete evidence to go on that there is anyone else connected with the assassination," Wade said, but added that some aspects of the case may still be investigated.

The district attorney said that because Ruby's slaying of Oswald was an assassination "I

Today's Etiquette

LIMITED ACTIVITIES

Dear Louise: I am trying to analyze myself in relation to my friends and acquaintances. I either need some advice or a boost or a scolding. Since you can be objective, I'm sure you can help. I am a widow in my late sixties and until a few years ago I had a host of friends. I loved to attend parties and loved to entertain. All that seems to be in the past. My friends are baseball fans, so I hibernate during the season. I know nothing about the game and am bored to death with the subject which goes on and on for months until after the World Series. I refuse to have television in my house because reading books is more worthwhile. So what do I hear when with people? Baseball plus discussions about television stars, plots and programs. But now I'm a loner. Don't you think that people are very inconsiderate to bring up topics in which I'm not the least interested?

Louise Davis Answers:

By your own choice, you are in the minority and shouldn't expect friends to gear their lives and thinking to your pattern. They can't all be out of step but you. Poor Explanations Can Cause Needless Worry

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Many people write to you because their doctors will not take the time to answer their questions. What to the doctors may seem silly may be something the patients continue to worry about. I have very dark circles under my eyes and sometimes puffiness or "bags" explain these?

Molner

MRS. W. M. C.

You're right. Lots of people worry needlessly because their doctors haven't explained a condition. My sympathy goes to both — to the patient who worries, and to the doctor who worries. I would gladly do the explaining but he doesn't have the time.

This is not, as some people think, a matter of money. Well, here I suppose some doctors are money-hungry, but this is true of some people in any walk of life. But most doctors have a high sense of duty, and a recognition that their special training carries a responsibility as well as recompenses. How do you weigh dollars in fees against being waked up by telephone calls several nights in a row, at 3 a.m.? Maybe most calls are pointless, or panicky, but you don't dare ignore the phone, because some of them will be urgent. See what I mean?

Anyway, I know but few doctors who don't have more than they can do. I know precious few who wouldn't like to go person with naturally soft skin home, like everybody else, in the evening and relax. But there is such a need for medical attention that most "office hours" don't end at 5, but go on after that — plus night calls, and so on. And that may be one reason why doctors don't "answer questions."

Serve Both

So much for my apology. But I fondly hope that I can do a service to both doctors and patients by explaining in my position some of the questions that arise. When the same question comes up often, I can answer it once (or maybe a few times). The doctor in private practice can't answer more than one patient at a time.

So let's talk about "bags under the eyes." We have some lonesome skin-ies, and to the doctor who below the eyes. If, for one or several reasons, we accumulate more moisture in the system than we need, some of it settles in the menstrual period.

If we gain weight, then lose it, we may have some stretched skin there. We may have skin texture or color which makes the "bags" more obvious. The habitual hard drinker may become flabby and his metabolism may be changed, and he can have "bags under the eyes." But a perfectly healthy person may have them. "Bags under the eyes" often have no relation to health. Obviously the rundown boozefighter can't point to his bleary eyes and say this means he's not healthy. But neither should a think that the bags mean he isn't healthy.

In fact, "bags under the eyes" have about as little general significance as the "coated tongue" that our mothers and grandmothers used to think was so important.

BABY DEATHS

Dear Dr. Molner: Do babies ever die in the uterus? If so, are they removed by surgery? A story was passed on to me about twins in a seven-month pregnancy. The doctor didn't perform the removal operation for two weeks, but then in a couple of days the mother-to-be was fine again. This sounds fantastic.

MARY

In that form, it does sound as though some information were missing from the story. Yes, babies sometimes die in the womb. Nature is quite effective in forcing expulsion, but sometimes surgical intervention is necessary. If there were a two-week wait in the story you were told, it might well have been to give Nature a chance. There might have been some question as to the exact circumstances, too. You don't rush into surgery because perhaps the baby is dead. You want to be as certain as possible.

Dr. Molner is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Mother Feels Afraid During Thunderstorms; Children See

BY DR. EVE JONES

DEAR DR. JONES: Every time we have a thunderstorm, I get terribly scared. This has been going on all my life. My husband says I'm setting a bad example for my children by letting them see how miserable I am when it storms, but how can I do anything else? When I try to comfort them, they feel it when I jump, and then they get even more scared.

MRS. L. C.

Since you can't change your feelings or hide them, the only thing you can do is to label them clearly for your children. Tell them that you want them to recognize you're a foolish woman to react the way you do. Apologize to them for not being able to control yourself, and tell them you hope they'll be sensible like their father.

Decide with them on some special activity like making candy that they can carry out every time it storms during the daytime. They won't notice you in their excitement; and, if you pull out the candy-making equipment at the first lightning bolt, you won't need to do more than sit and jitter while they're having fun.

If a storm at night wakes your children, let your husband do the comforting. Away from your bad example, your children will probably quickly respond to his matter-of-fact directions that they get back to their beds, stop agitating around, and learn to ignore the storm.

Chances are that once you start taking this objective approach your pointless fears, you'll find it easier to suffer through storms, too.

...A Statement by Leo E. Suycott, Chief Executive of the Wisconsin Blue Cross Plan

Our first debt and responsibility is to the people of Wisconsin. We must constantly strive, in their interest, to:

1. Provide the finest possible health care plans at the least possible cost.
2. Provide the highest possible level of service and continually to seek new and better ways to attain this objective.
3. Provide a dynamic program of research into new areas of health care prepayment.

Our second responsibility is to the Associated Hospitals, who through their interest, support, and guidance, have made it possible to provide the Blue Cross service-benefit principle. We must constantly strive, both to develop new programs and to improve existing programs, in order to keep pace with the ever changing problem-areas in the financing of hospital care. We must ever be alert for new and better ways to serve our hospitals.

Our third responsibility is to those who work with us—the men and women in our offices. Our Plan's strength and future service to the community lies in the hands of our employees. Because of this, they must have a sense of security, opportunity for advancement and consideration as individuals, each standing on his own dignity and merit.

Our fourth responsibility is to the communities in which we live. To be a good corporate citizen—we must support and be interested in good works, charity and the promotion of civic improvement, health, and education.

We are determined, with the help of God's grace, to fulfill these obligations to the best of our ability.

Papers in Valley Eulogize Kennedy

The great impact of the late President Kennedy's tragic death was reflected on the editorial pages of daily newspapers throughout the Fox Valley.

Excerpts follow:

"The assassination of President John F. Kennedy is such an appalling atrocity that even today the nation is stunned and the full impact upon the United States and the world is unrealized. But our nation has suffered, and not merely the loss of a young, energetic, capable chief executive.

"We mourn for John Fitzgerald Kennedy. We also mourn for the United States of America on one of the darkest days in history." — Appleton Post-Crescent.

"The tragic death by assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Texas, Friday has saddened the entire nation. Mr. Kennedy as the youngest President of the United States was at the height of his career but there can be no logic to this wanton slaying." — Green Bay Press-Gazette.

"The United States entered into one of the blackest periods of history at 1 p.m. Friday, the minute President John F. Kennedy died, victim of an assassin's bullet.

"They (the people of Manitowoc) realize, with us, the heart-rending sorrow that surrounds Mrs. Kennedy and children, as well as the grief people in our nation, and world, experience when a beloved chieftain is gone." — Manitowoc Herald-Times.

"Ask not what your country can do for you — ask what you can do for your country."

"The man who spoke these words is dead. His life was taken from him by an assassin's bullet at Dallas, Tex., on a day that will go down in history as one of the nation's blackest Fridays." — Oshkosh Northwestern.

"America stands today united — united with heavy hearts and bowed heads — bound together in grief and sorrow. The President of the United States is dead. John Fitzgerald Kennedy has given his life for the land and the people he loved. We salute him and thank him for all he did and for all he was to all of us." — Sheboygan Press.

"The nation loses a young leader whose great promise lived in the shadow of great controversy. . . the way he died must inescapably cost all Americans deeply in self-esteem as free men of good will. . . That is the greater tragedy." — Fond du Lac Commonwealth Reporter.

"Thousands of friends, among them a fiend.

"While he was being hailed by the multitudes in Dallas, President John F. Kennedy was gunned down by a murderous fanatic. The eighth Chief Executive to die in office and the fourth to be felled by an assassin, he is another victim of the tragic occupational hazard that confronts all who serve in the nation's highest office. . . The smiling and energetic young man, at 46 a man of stature among global leaders, lies dead, and the world is a gloomier place today because of it." — Stevens Point Journal.

"The world and nation, the great and the humble, today mourned the death of the young statesman. Their hearts went out to his widow, who saw him cut down by an assassin's bullet, and his family. . . President Kennedy came to power in a time of peril. He led his nation with courage, fighting for peace and the underprivileged at home and abroad." — Wausau Daily Record-Herald.

Widow of Late Judge Ryan Dies

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Ryan, 88, traffic bureau of the Appleton 703, S. Memorial Drive, Appleton Police Department, in a meeting, died Sunday at Milwaukee, Wis., at St. Matthew Lutheran Hospital.

She was the widow of the late School PTA asked parents to Thomas H. Ryan, Appleton, to help the police department by helping judge for many years, educating children on traffic safety. She is survived by four daughters, two sons, 18 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. Several children have been hit by cars, as pedestrians in Appleton this morning.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Mary's Catholic Church, with burial in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends order to train their children on may call at the Wichmann Funeral Home after 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Lt. John Gosch, head of the Appleton Traffic Bureau, spoke at a memorial service for the late President Kennedy at the Appleton Police Department on Sunday. He spoke of the importance of traffic safety and the need for citizens to be vigilant on the roads.

Lawrence Mourns Kennedy as It Did Lincoln 100 Years Ago

All of Appleton Gathered in University Chapel for Presidential Memorial Then

By MARGUERITE SCHUMANN

Nearly a hundred years ago, Appleton citizens marched across town one April day, into the chapel of Lawrence University, with their hearts full of heavenly grief for the late Abraham Lincoln.

Today, the chapel of Lawrence College was the scene of another memorial service for a United States President. A terrible turn of the wheel of history had carried John Fitzgerald Kennedy to Lincoln's Catafalque.

Then the town was small enough to huddle together under one roof for solace. Today, the community's size and composite grief was too large for that; there were services all over town. But Lawrence sadly provided the historic continuity that is the responsibility of the oldest institution in the city.

Then, every adult in Appleton marched in the Lincoln procession, led by the Knights Templar, to muffled drums, funeral bells, and the deep peal of cannon. All day, guns were heard at 30-minute intervals, and from 11 a.m. to noon, the bells of Appleton tolled a dirge.

Today, no civilian marched. The 20th century is the age of the spectator, and they had watched their procession on television. The men of the Lawrence College AFOTC, however, did march in quiet cadence into the chapel. Civilians walked quietly past cadets stationed at each Corinthian pillar of Memorial Chapel, their hearts chilled with the realization that the law of our land had been flouted not once but twice in 48 hours.

In 1865, Appleton mourned a war possibly more than a man. Few in the city had ever seen Lincoln. But they had seen waves of their sons march off in the course of four years of fighting, and they had already spent, privately, their tears for those who did not come back. Lawrence alone had sent more

Requiem Is Solemn Testimony of Death

Mass for President Kennedy Points Up Contrast with '59 Visit

By WILLIAM C. CAREY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Life is so unpredictable.

The special requiem high mass this morning at St. Pius X Catholic Church was a solemn testimony.

It was the mass for the dead. In this case, for the late John Fitzgerald Kennedy, the young man with the radiant smile, who 45 months ago had stood in the parish hall in the same building and greeted hundreds of Appleton residents.

The more than 600 persons packing the banquet hall that memorabilia evening of April 11, 1959 had clasped the outstretched hand of the aspiring senator from Massachusetts and wished him well.

Months elapsed and this gracious visitor became the 35th president of the United States.

Kneel, pray

Today, these same Appleton residents of all ages and walks of life went to church, kneeling with bowed heads and prayers on their lips for the man they knew as Jack Kennedy, their president.

No doubt those who mourned the passing of the President recalled the joyful excitement of that April 11th night, contrasting it with the black Friday of Nov. 22, 1963 when an assassin's rifle snuffed out the life of the Chief Executive.

The hand of fate cast its shadow over the lannon stone church on Marquette Street as the bells tolled 9 o'clock and the Rev. Richard Keller, pastor of St. Pius congregation, walked to the altar.

As celebrant of the mass he was wearing black vestments of the Roman Catholic church signifying rites for the dead. Father Keller well remembered Mr. Kennedy—he had sat next to him at that banquet table four years ago.

Nuns from St. Pius occupied a pew near the front of the church, arriving at 8:45 a.m. Many of them, too, had met the man who eventually became President.

The Rev. John Vandevren, who on Sunday eulogized the late President in his sermon and called upon all Americans to "awaken from their apathy," knelt in the sanctuary, prayerbook in hand.

Members of the children's choir—some of them probably

WASHINGTON — Reps. John W. Byrnes, Alvin E. O'Konski and Clement Zablocki were among the 100 members of the House of Representatives chosen to attend the requiem mass for the late President John F. Kennedy in St. Matthew's Cathedral today.

The three Wisconsin members were chosen on the basis of seniority.

Special hours were set aside today and Sunday for House members to pay their respects to the late President as his body lay in state in the rotunda of the Capitol.

Rep. Melvin Laird was the only member of the Wisconsin delegation seen going through the line this morning. However, other members, including Byrnes, paid their respects Sunday.

UCS Committee on Health Services to Discuss Study Report

The United Community Services study committee preparing a report on "Public Health Services" will meet Dec. 3 to discuss the first draft of the report.

The report is a combined project of the UCS study committee and the League of Women Voters. When completed, it will be presented to various public organizations for their reaction, and then will be presented to the county board for action.

The report grew out of the dinner meeting of the Kiwanis Club at 6:05 p.m. Tuesday at Hammen's Restaurant.

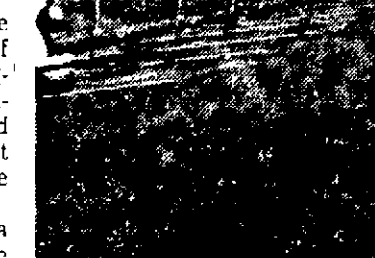

A report on the Lt. Governor's conference will be made by Verkuilen and Art Grundy. Plans will be discussed for a Christmas party and program.

Centenarian Recalls Four Assassinations

"The country was all torn up when our presidents were shot. We were down and had to work ourselves up again. Now Kennedy. . . this is terrible too."

The speaker, Mrs. Minnie Lecker, 102, living at Outagamie County Golden Age Home, has been through the assassination of four presidents. Lincoln had been dead a year when she came to America from Germany a child of five.

"Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley. . . now what's all happened. It's awful, oh my!"

Mrs. Lecker's memory is amazing. She recalls her own past and the major events of history immediately. She admits she's fuzzy on details, but it's been a long time.

Millions Witness Real-Life Murder On Television

BY ROBERT R. HOLTON

Millions of television viewers throughout the nation watched in stunned horror Sunday as a murder was committed. It undoubtedly was the first time so many people witnessed a real-life homicide.

But many looked beyond the grisly aspects of the spectacle to find in the deed some type of justice worked against Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused, but not convicted, of assassinating President Kennedy only two days before.

The overwhelming majority of those polled by The Associated Press looked upon Oswald's slaying by Dallas night club proprietor Jack Ruby as a frightening revolt against the American code of justice.

Moral Breakdown

Many thought the murder mirrored a breakdown in the moral standards of the nation. Clergy men condemned it as a serious breach in Christian ethics.

Still others saw in Oswald's death a practical loss. They wondered aloud whether the world would ever know if the true presidential assassin had paid for his crime.

In Dallas, where the slaying of both the President and his suspected killer took place, some openly cheered the killing of Oswald. But many more, along with the clergy and civic leaders, denounced the

Streets, Businesses Deserted; Thousands Follow Caisson on TV

BY RAY PY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Three men dressed for heavy labor, watched quietly this morning on a set in the television lounge of the YMCA near downtown Appleton. It was 9 a.m. A flicker of sun broke through an overcast sky, and tell across the small television screen. One man got up and closed the heavy drapes, plunging the room into darkness save only for the glow of the screen.

Nearby, College Avenue, the hub of this Fox River community, lay quiet. Dozens of stores had never opened their doors this morning. Hastily printed or hand-lettered signs hung on doorways announcing opening for later today.

Somewhere in the city, men worked at heavy construction — of a private parking ramp near a large department store. In front of a bank, a crew manning a power shovel scooped at the dirt and brick preparatory to the construction of a storm sewer.

Deserted Corner

A policeman stood on a deserted corner and wondered why he had to be there. He thought of an old joke: you could shoot a cannon down the main drag — and not hit anyone.

It was 9:15 a.m. at the All Saints Episcopal Church near the Lawrence College campus. Small crowds, in twos and threes, mostly students, some faculty, some younger children, entered the church for a 9:30 a.m. service.

An Army major, resplendent in dress blues and wearing a combat infantryman's badge, went to a pew near the rear of the church. He knelt and prayed for his commander.

Memorial Service

The church was filled to capacity when the Rev. Carl E. Wilke began his memorial service with a request that all pray for the repose of the soul of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 35th president of the United States.

Near the church in a coffee shop, several businessmen sat talking in front of a small television set mounted on the counter. As the caisson rolled on, the muffled drums kept an awe-some beat. One of the men tapped the counter top in time, his eyes staring at the set.

Across town, a loud banging from the construction project on Washington Street kept an iron time with the muffled drums.

Elroy Kalies, 33, Appleton, Struck By Shotgun Slug

CHILTON — The condition of Elroy Kalies, 33, 1622 E. John St., Appleton, who was wounded by a shotgun slug while hunting deer west of Hilbert Saturday morning, is reported as "improved" by a Calumet Memorial Hospital official today.

Kalies was struck in the upper thigh by a slug believed to have been fired by his father, Carl Kalies, 203 Washington St., Brillion, according to Conservation Warden Keith Reichenbach.

Kalies had shot a deer about 7:40 a.m. and was bending over to dress it out when he was wounded. Carl Kalies was "some distance away" and his view of the other hunter was obscured by willows and brush, the investigation report indicates.

The slug struck Kalies' wallet and lodged in his hip. No bones were shattered. The bullet was removed during surgery Saturday and the hunter's condition was still listed as "serious" Saturday night. He has been removed from the serious list, the hospital reported.

Dear Louise: I am trying to analyze myself in relation to my friends and acquaintances. I either need some advice or a boost or a scolding. Since you can be objective, I'm sure you can help. I am a widow in my late sixties and until a few years ago I had a host of friends. I loved to attend parties and loved to entertain. All that seems to be in the past. My friends are baseball fans so I hibernate during the season. I know nothing about the game and am bored to death with the subject which goes on and on for months until after the World Series. I refuse to have television in my house because reading books is more worthwhile. So what do I hear when with people? Baseball plus discussions about television stars, plots and programs. But now I'm a loner. Don't you think that people are very inconsiderate to bring up topics in which I'm not the least interested?

Louise Davis Answers:

By your own choice, you are in the minority and shouldn't expect friends to gear their lives and thinking to your pattern. They can't all be out of step but you. If your lonely life gives you satisfaction, that should be enough, but it isn't. I have a feeling that you are intolerant and in self defense are critical of those around you. After taking stock of yourself, perhaps you can learn to be more flexible. Why not break down and get a television set? I admit it would take time to separate the wheat from the chaff. To Your Good Health

Poor Explanations Can Cause Needless Worry

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: Many people write to you because their doctors will not take the time to answer their questions. What to the doctors may seem silly may be something the patients continue to worry about.

Molner

I have very dark circles under my eyes and sometimes puffiness or "bags." Can you explain these?

MRS. W. M. C. You're right. Lots of people worry needlessly because their doctors haven't explained a condition. My sympathy goes to both — to the patient who worries, and to the doctor who would gladly do the explaining but he doesn't have the time.

This is not, as some people think, a matter of money. Well, yes, I suppose some doctors are money-hungry, but this is true of some people in any walk of life. But most doctors have a high sense of duty, and a recognition that their special training carries a responsibility as well as recompenses. How do we weigh dollars in fees against several nights in a row, at 3 a.m.? Maybe most calls are pointless, or panicky, but you don't dare ignore the phone, because some of them will be urgent. See what I mean?

Anyway, I know but few doctors who don't have more than eyes and say this means he's few who wouldn't like to go person with naturally soft skin home, like everybody else, in the evening and relax. But there is such a need for medical attention that most "office hours" don't end at 5, but go on after that — plus night calls, and so on. And that may be one reason why doctors don't "answer questions."

Serve Both

So much for my apology. But I fondly hope that I can do a service to both doctors and patients by explaining in my position some of the questions that arise. When the same question comes up often, I can answer it once (or maybe a few times). The doctor in private practice can't answer more than one patient at a time.

So let's talk about "bags under the eyes." We have some loosish skin below the eyes. If, for one or several reasons, we accumulate more moisture in the system than we need, some of it settles in the periorbital area. If we gain weight, then lose it, we may have some stretched skin there.

We may have skin texture or color which makes the "bags" more obvious. The habitual hard drinker may become flabby and his metabolism may be changed, and he can have "bags under the eyes." But a perfectly healthy person may have them. "Bags under the eyes" often have no relation to health. Obviously the rundown booze-fighter can't point to his bleary eyes and say this means he's healthy. But neither should a few who wouldn't like to go person with naturally soft skin think that the bags mean he's unhealthy.

In fact, "bags under the eyes" have about as little general significance as the "coated tongue" that our mothers and grandmothers used to think was so important.

BABY DEATHS

Dear Dr. Molner: Do babies ever die in the uterus? If so, are they removed by surgery? A story was passed on to me about twins in a seven-month pregnancy. The doctor didn't perform the removal operation for two weeks, but then in a couple of days the mother-to-be was fine again. This sounds fantastic.

MARY

In that form, it does sound as though some information were missing from the story. Yes, babies sometimes die in the womb. Nature is quite effective in forcing expulsion, but sometimes surgical intervention is necessary. If there were a two-week wait in the story you were told, it might well have been to give Nature a chance. There might have been some question as to the exact circumstances, too. You don't rush into surgery because perhaps the baby is dead. You want to be as certain as possible.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Mother Feels Afraid During Thunderstorms; Children See

BY DR. EVE JONES

DEAR EVE JONES: Every time we have a thunderstorm, I get terribly scared. This has been going on all my life. My husband says I'm setting a bad example for my children by letting them see how miserable I am when it storms, but how can I do anything else? Jones When I try to comfort them, they feel it when I jump, and then they get even more scared.

MRS. L. C.

Since you can't change your feelings or hide them, the only thing you can do is to label them clearly for your children. Tell them that you want them to recognize you're a foolish woman to react the way you do. Apologize to them for not being able to control yourself, and tell them you hope they'll be sensible like their father.

Decide with them on some special activity like making candy that they can carry out every time it storms during the daytime. They won't notice you in their excitement; and, if you pull out the candy-making equipment at the first lightning bolt, you won't need to do more than sit and jitter while they're having fun.

If a storm at night wakes your children, let your husband do the comforting. Away from your bad example, your children will probably quickly respond to his matter-of-fact directions that they get back to their beds, stop agitating around, and learn to ignore the storm.

WHAT DOES BLUE CROSS OWE YOU?

...A Statement by Leo E. Sycott, Chief Executive of the Wisconsin Blue Cross Plan

Our first debt and responsibility is to the people of Wisconsin. We must constantly strive, in their interest, to:

1. Provide the finest possible health care plans at the least possible cost.
2. Provide the highest possible level of service and continually to seek new and better ways to attain this objective.
3. Provide a dynamic program of research into new areas of health care prepayment.

Our second responsibility is to the Associated Hospitals, who through their interest, support, and guidance, have made it possible to provide the Blue Cross service-benefit principle. We must constantly strive, both to develop new programs and to improve existing programs, in order to keep pace with the ever changing problem-areas in the financing of hospital care. We must ever be alert for new and better ways to serve our hospitals.

Our third responsibility is to those who work with us—the men and women in our offices. Our Plan's strength and future service to the community lies in the hands of our employees. Because of this, they must have a sense of security, opportunity for advancement and consideration as individuals, each standing on his own dignity and merit.

Our fourth responsibility is to the communities in which we live. To be a good corporate citizen—we must support and be interested in good works, charity and the promotion of civic improvement, health, and education.

We are determined, with the help of God's grace, to fulfill these obligations to the best of our ability.

Papers in Valley Eulogize Kennedy

The great impact of the late President Kennedy's tragic death was reflected on the editorial pages of daily newspapers throughout the Fox Valley.

Excerpts follow:

"The assassination of President John F. Kennedy is such an appalling atrocity that even today the nation is stunned and the full impact upon the United States and the world is unrealized. But our nation has suffered, and not merely the loss of a young, energetic, capable chief executive."

"We mourn for John Fitzgerald Kennedy. We also mourn for the United States of America on one of the darkest days in history." — Appleton Post-Crescent.

"The tragic death by assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Texas, Friday has saddened the entire nation. Mr. Kennedy as the youngest President of the United States was at the height of his career but there can be no logic to this wanton slaying." — Green Bay Press-Gazette.

"The United States entered into one of the blackest periods of history at 1 p.m. Friday, the minute President John F. Kennedy died, victim of an assassin's bullet."

"They (the people of Manitowoc) realize, with us, the heart-rending sorrow that surrounds Mrs. Kennedy and children, as well as the grief people in our nation, and world, experience when a beloved chieftain is gone." — Manitowoc Herald-Times.

"Ask not what your country can do for you — ask what you can do for your country."

"The man who spoke these words is dead. His life was taken from him by an assassin's bullet at Dallas, Tex., on a day that will go down in history as one of the nation's blackest Fridays." — Oshkosh Northwestern.

"America stands today united — united with heavy hearts and bowed heads — bound together in grief and sorrow. The President of the United States is dead. John Fitzgerald Kennedy has given his life for the land and the people he loved. We salute him and thank him for all he did and for all he was to all of us." — Sheboygan Press.

"The nation loses a young leader whose great promise lived in the shadow of great controversy. The way he died must inescapably cost all Americans deeply in self-esteem as free men of good will. That is the greater tragedy." — Fond du Lac Commonwealth Reporter.

"Thousands of friends, among them a fiend. While he was being hailed by the multitudes in Dallas, President John F. Kennedy was gunned down by a murderous fanatic. The eighth Chief Executive to die in office and the fourth to be felled by an assassin, he is another victim of the tragic occupational hazard that confronts all who serve in the nation's highest office. The smiling and energetic young man, at 46 a man of stature among global leaders, lies dead, and the world is a gloomier place today because of it." — Stevens Point Journal.

"The world and nation, the great and the humble, today mourned the death of the young statesman. Their hearts went out to his widow, who saw him cut down by an assassin's bullet, and his family. President Kennedy came to power in a time of peril. He led his nation with courage, fighting for peace and the underprivileged at home and abroad." — Wausau Daily Record-Herald.

Lawrence Mourns Kennedy as It Did Lincoln 100 Years Ago

All of Appleton Gathered in University Chapel for Presidential Memorial Then

By MARGUERITE SCHUMANN

Nearly a hundred years ago Appleton citizens marched across town one April day, into the chapel of Lawrence University, with their hearts full of heaviness for the late Abraham Lincoln.

Today, the chapel of Lawrence College was the scene of another memorial service for a United States President. A terrible turn of the wheel of history had carried John Fitzgerald Kennedy to Lincoln's Catafalque.

Then the town was small enough to huddle together under one roof for solace. Today, the community's size and composite grief was too large for that; there were services all over town. But Lawrence sadly provided the historic continuity that is the responsibility of the oldest institution in the city.

Then, every adult in Appleton marched in the Lincoln procession, led by the Knights Templar "to muffled drums, funeral bells and the deep peal of cannon." All day, guns were heard at 30-minute intervals, and from 11 a.m. to noon, the bells of Appleton tolled a dirge.

Today, no civilian marched. The 20th century is the age of the spectator, and they had watched their procession on television. The men of the Lawrence College AFROTC, however, did march in quiet cadence into the chapel. Civilians walked quietly past cadets stationed at each Corinthian pillar of Memorial Chapel, their hearts chilled with the realization that the law of our land had been flouted not once but twice in 48 hours.

In 1865, Appleton mourned a war possibly more than a man. Few in the city had ever seen Lincoln. But they had seen waves of their sons march off in the course of four years of fighting, and they had already spent, privately, their tears for those who did not come back. Lawrence alone had sent more

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Life is so unpredictable. The special requiem high mass this morning at St. Pius X Catholic Church was a solemn testimony.

It was the mass for the dead. In this case, for the late John Fitzgerald Kennedy, the young man with the radiant smile, who 45 months ago had stood in the parish hall in the same building and greeted hundreds of Appleton residents.

The more than 600 persons packing the banquet hall that memorable evening of April 11, 1959 had clasped the outstretched hand of the aspiring senator from Massachusetts and wished him well.

Months elapsed and this gracious visitor became the 35th president of the United States.

Kneel, Pray

Today, these same Appleton residents of all ages and walks of life went to church, kneeling with bowed heads and prayers on their lips for the man they knew as Jack Kennedy, their president.

No doubt those who mourned the passing of the President recalled the joyful excitement of that April 11th night, contrasting it with the black Friday of Nov. 22, 1963 when an assassin's rifle snuffed out the life of the Chief Executive.

Black Vestments

The hand of fate cast its shadow over the lannon stone church on Marquette Street as the bells tolled 9 o'clock and the Rev. Richard Keller, pastor of St. Pius congregation, walked to the altar.

As celebrant of the mass he was wearing black vestments of the Roman Catholic church signifying rites for the dead. Father Keller well remembered Mr. Kennedy—he had sat next to him at that banquet table four years ago.

Nuns from St. Pius occupied a pew near the front of the church, arriving at 8:45 a.m. Many of them, too, had met the man who eventually became President.

The Rev. John Vandevren, who on Sunday eulogized the late President in his sermon and called upon all Americans to "awaken from their apathy," knelt in the sanctuary, prayerbook in hand.

Crowd Gathers

As the crowd gathered in Memorial Chapel this morning, more than one remembered a statement made on that platform a month ago. A University of Wisconsin political scientist, analyzing the 1964 election, told of the enormous personal pressures placed on campaign-ers with the advent of airplane travel.

He spoke at that moment of

3 Wisconsinites Among Congressmen At Kennedy Mass

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Reps. John W. Byrnes, Alvin E. O'Konski and Clement Zablocki were among the 100 members of the House of Representatives chosen to attend the requiem mass for the late President John F. Kennedy in St. Matthews' Cathedral today.

The three Wisconsin members were chosen on the basis of seniority.

Special hours were set aside today and Sunday for House members to pay their respects to the late President as his body lay in state in the rotunda of the Capitol.

Rep. Melvin Laird was the only member of the Wisconsin delegation seen going through the line this morning. However, other members, including Byrnes, paid their respects Sunday.

Appleton's Usually Busy College Avenue was deserted this morning, as the nation paused to pay tribute to the assassinated President Kennedy. Most businesses were closed and many churches held special memorial services. President Johnson proclaimed today a national day of mourning. (Post-Crescent Photo)

'The Past All Over Again'

Centenarian Recalls Four Assassinations

"The country was all torn up when our presidents were shot. We were down and had to work ourselves up again. Now Kennedy... this is terrible, too."

The speaker, Mrs. Minnie Lecker, 102, living at Outagamie County Golden Age Home, has been through the assassination of four presidents. Lincoln had been dead a year when she came to America from Germany a child of five.

"Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley... now what's all happened. It's awful, oh my!"

Mrs. Lecker's memory is amazing. She recalls her own past and the major events of history immediately. She admits she's fuzzy on details, but it's been a long time.

"It's hard to remember how the country felt then... even how it lived then," she says. "Everything was a different. There were no phones, and no

BY ROBERT R. HOLTON

Millions of television viewers throughout the nation watched in stunned horror Sunday as a murder was committed. It undoubtedly was the first time so many people witnessed a real-life homicide.

But many looked beyond the grisly aspects of the spectacle to find in the deed some type of justice worked against Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused, but not convicted, of assassinating President Kennedy only two days before.

The overwhelming majority of those polled by The Associated Press looked upon Oswald's slaying by Dallas night club proprietor Jack Ruby as a frightening revolt against the American code of justice.

Moral Breakdown

Many thought the murder mirrored a breakdown in the moral standards of the nation. Clergymen condemned it as a serious breach in Christian ethics.

Still others saw in Oswald's death a practical loss. They wondered aloud whether the world would ever know if the true presidential assassin had paid for his crime.

In Dallas, where the slaying of both the President and his suspected killer took place, some openly cheered the killing of Oswald. But many more, along with the clergy and civic leaders, denounced the

Elroy Kalies, 33, Appleton, Struck By Shotgun Slug

CHILTON — The condition of Elroy Kalies, 33, 1622 E. John, Appleton, who was wounded by a shotgun slug while hunting deer west of Hilbert Saturday morning, is reported as "improved" by a Calumet Memorial Hospital official today.

Kalies was struck in the upper thigh by a slug believed to have been fired by his father, Carl Kalies, 203 Washington St., Brillion, according to Conservation Warden Keith Reichenbach.

Kalies had shot a deer about 7:40 a.m. and was bending over to dress it out when he was wounded. Carl Kalies was "some distance away and his view of the other hunter was obscured by willows and brush," the investigation report indicates.

The slug struck Kalies' wallet and lodged in his hip. No bones were shattered. The bullet was removed during surgery Saturday and the hunter's condition was still listed as "serious" Saturday night. He has been removed from the serious list, the hospital reported.

Condition of Wounded Deer Hunter Better

There seemed to be no other sound in the quiet city.

No School

Two boys walked across College Avenue shortly before 10 a.m. They pushed and posted one another and reported they had come downtown because there was no school today. They went into an office building, presumably to ride the elevators until they thought of something else to do.

One retail store was conspicuous for its prompt opening at 9 a.m. There were no customers and few clerks. One clerk said most of the employees failed to show up for work today.

"I hope no one comes downtown all day today," the woman said. "I hope no one has anything at all." What few clerks there were were agreed they would try to take in a church service sometime this morning.

A worker who operated a power shovel near the Appleton State Bank said he thought work would halt soon. "I didn't think we'd work at all today," he said.

At 10 a.m. the Rev. I. B. Kindem at Trinity Lutheran Church asked a silent prayer from his congregation:

"God of our fathers, we have suffered a great loss in the death of our President, our Commander in Chief. We thank thee for having him for a time, for his strength, for his courage, wisdom."

Deserted Corner

A policeman stood on a deserted corner and wondered why he had to be there. He thought of an old joke: you could shoot a cannon down the main drag — and not hit anyone.

It was 9:15 a.m. at the All Saints Episcopal Church near the Lawrence College campus. Small crowds, in twos and threes, mostly students, some faculty, some younger children entered the church for a 9:30 a.m. service.

An Army major resplendent in dress blues and wearing a combat infantryman's badge went to a pew near the rear of the church. He knelt and prayed for his commander.

Memorial Service

The church was filled to capacity when the Rev. Carl E. Wilke began his memorial service with a request that all pray for the repose of the soul of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 35th president of the United States.

Near the church in a coffee shop, several businessmen sat talking in front of a small television set mounted on the counter. As the caisson rolled on, the muffled drums kept an awesome beat. One of the men tapped the counter top in time, his eyes staring at the set.

Across town, a loud banging from the construction project on Washington Street kept an ironic time with the muffled drums.

Knew Him in Marines Menasha Man Talks of Lee Harvey Oswald

NEENAH — "We all took Lee Harvey Oswald to be a sort of a joke," said a Menasha car salesman who was in a Marine Camp with the slain, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

"He was always complaining, and saying that he was going to Russia. He hated the United States and the marines. Some of the fellows told me he said he was going to turn over confidential U.S. information when he got to Russia."

Earl W. Vanidestine, a car salesman with Turley Pontiac, was a Marine for 8½ years before receiving an honorable medical retirement last August.

In 1959 while stationed in Santa Anna, Calif., he was associated with Oswald for five months in the Marine Air Control Squadron 9 (MACS-9).

"Oswald was just about nutty enough to do anything. You couldn't tell what he was going to do," Vanidestine said.

"I was a corporal and had him on a couple of work crews but he didn't cause any trouble other than his constant complaining."

Vanidestine explained that Oswald was a loner. "He didn't have any friends. Everybody felt he was the kind of guy you didn't want anything to do with."

He kept saying he wanted to go to Russia, and that's why they let him out," he said. "It became the standard joke that if you wanted to get out, just say you were going to Russia."

Court Martial

Not by any means a model soldier, Oswald was court-martialed a couple of times, according to Vanidestine. "Upon thinking it over, I'm not surprised it was Oswald who killed President Kennedy."

"I heard about it on the radio and thought I remembered the name. When the announcer said he'd been in air control in the Marines then I knew I'd been in California with him."

Since Oswald's death there's been a wave of speculation that he was a part of planned assassination of President Kennedy, and that Oswald was killed to "shut him up."

Vanidestine believes this is the case. "I think the President's death and Oswald's killing are all tied up together. The way he hated the United States had been to Russia and came back, there's no telling what he might know."

"Oswald was crazy enough to kill the President, and it's possible that someone was out to get him before he said anything."

No Literature

A native of Peshtigo, Vanidestine, said he doesn't remember seeing Oswald reading subversive or Communist literature as has been reported. "A Marine who was from New Orleans and who was there talked to me a lot about him and how he hated the United States and read Communist literature. I never saw anything like this," he said.

I can't remember myself or anyone associating with him on that of John Wilkes Booth.

Bishop Prays Mass Deeds for President Now Are Spiritual

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Before a jam-packed congregation of clergy and laymen at St. Francis Xavier Cathedral, Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona of Green Bay Catholic Diocese, today said "our words and deeds for the late President Kennedy are now spiritual."

As the bells tolled at the cathedral, Bishop Bona said President Kennedy served as best he could in our behalf during his term of office, and asked "What is it we can do for him?"

"We have more in mind than eulogy and praise," the bishop said in his sermon. He added, "These he cannot hear, nor do they count in the life beyond. Our words and deeds for him are spiritual. They are prayers and masses offered, holy communion received, and other acts of piety tendered for his intention, for the repose of his soul."

Pontifical Requiem Mass

Paying homage to the late President in a pontifical requiem mass, Bishop Bona said "His service during the final three years of his life proved once and for all that a Catholic can worthily serve his country not only as a honest citizen, not only as a soldier laying down his life for his country not only as an official in governmental service, but as an incumbent in the highest office his country can entrust to him."

As members of the faith we have reason to be proud of him, the bishop said.

Wounded Menashan Reported Improved

MENASHA — The condition of Ramon John, 35, 525 Second St., Menasha, who is recovering from bullet wounds in his chest and leg received in a shooting last week, was reported by Thea Clark Memorial Hospital officials this morning as still serious but improving.

John's brother-in-law, Larry Johnson, 25, 1100 Mayer St. Menasha, is being held on a charge of attempted murder.

According to Winnebago County authorities, Johnson and three other fellow employees stopped at the Wayside Inn a tavern just north of the Menasha City limits about 3:30 p.m. Wednesday of last week.

An apparent difference of opinion erupted over a pool game and Johnson left the tavern and returned about 15 minutes later. He walked over to John at the pool table, pulled out a gun and shot John. Johnson then walked out and was subsequently picked up at his home by Winnebago County police.

Winnebago Air Freight Depot Recommended

Recent Increase In Shipments Sparks Engineers' Proposal

OSHKOSH — Because of the growth of air cargo in recent years and the anticipated heavy increase in such shipments in future years, establishment of an air freight terminal at the Winnebago County Airport has been suggested.

The recommendation was included in the engineering study report of Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff, consulting engineers, to the aviation committee of the Winnebago County Board.

Although quite small in comparison to cargo transport by rail, water and highways, air cargo has developed at a very rapid pace in recent years, the engineers stated. They cited that new airplanes were being designed specifically for air cargo service.

Air mail shipments at the Winnebago County Airport increased 26 per cent in 1962 and air cargo increased 47 per cent. Additional increases of 8 per cent and 28 per cent, respectively, have been indicated for the first part of this year, the consultants pointed out.

The engineering firm projected future growth at a conservative 12 per cent per year. Air mail tonnage last year came to 120.3 tons and the consultants estimate this will be 265.8 tons in 1970 and 468.4 tons in 1975, based on the 12 per cent per year increase.

133 Per Cent Jump
Cargo tonnage took a 133 per cent jump in 1959 when it reached 113.3 tons and has increased steadily to 269.8 tons last year. The engineering firm projects the cargo tonnage to be 596.6 tons in 1970 and 1,051.4 tons in 1975, using the conservative 12 per cent increase per year ratio.

Recognizing the great potential in air cargo, the engineers pointed out, an area is being recommended for future construction of a freight terminal building. This area is near the present Kimberly-Clark Corp. hangar. Space also is reserved in its suggested long-range plan for future industrial hangars, with an access road connecting this area to the passenger terminal.

Recommendations of the consultant firm in with the projected plans of the City of Oshkosh which has established an industrial park area southeast of the airport along the Oregon Street road and State Highway 26. This industrial park would be convenient to rail, highway and air transport facilities. The Soo Line touches this area and the Chicago and North Western tracks are not far away.

The consulting engineers did not include in their $2.6 million cost estimate for the airport development any cost for a freight terminal or for industrial park or industrial hangar facilities. They did include an estimate of $20,000 for the access road from the industrial hangar area to the passenger terminal area.

In Albany, N. Y., an unidentified woman telephoned a newspaper office to recommend that Ruby be given the Congressional Medal of Honor.

"What He Deserved"
"Good," said Chicago cab driver Carl Moore. "It was justified. The man who did it was a nut. But he (Oswald) got what he deserved."

Most of those polled felt that a man still innocent in the eyes of the law had been slain at the hands of a murderer.

Roland R. O'Hare, district attorney of Detroit, expressed fear that "due process of the law is on the verge of becoming a victim of assassination."

"Comes to Sense"
Mayor Earle Cabell of Dallas issued an urgent appeal "for all of us to come to our senses, to resist hysteria."

The Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the Lutheran Church in America and chairman of the central committee of the World Council of Churches said:

"Life, as the gift of God, deserves to be respected far more than it is, and self-control ought to be restored to its rightful standing among the Christian graces where the Bible puts it."

dom and example he has given . . . let this sacrifice teach us to live better," the mourners prayed.

Immortal words of two assassinated presidents, Abraham Lincoln and Kennedy were read to the mourners by Pastor Kindem who asked that America not forget "the task before us . . ." and "that these dead shall not have died in vain." In closing, Pastor Kindem read the final few words of President Kennedy's undelivered speech in which

Newspapers Express Shock, Dismay

Authorities in Dallas Assailed For Laxity and Sensation-Seeking

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's newspapers generally expressed shock and dismay at the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Some editorials also assailed the authorities of Dallas, charging them with laxity or sensation-seeking.

"The misguided, degraded citizen who fired the shot that killed Lee Oswald . . . has placed a serious blot on the record of American justice," said an editorial in a special edition of the Las Vegas, Nev. Review-Journal.

"Dallas authorities are responsible for the Oswald case," said the Omaha World Herald. "It happened because officials undertook to turn the transfer of a suspected murderer into a roman circus."

American Paradox
"Here again," said the Portland, Me. Press Herald, "we have the paradox of America—a country boasting of its unparalleled system of government by law, but with a thread of lawlessness and violence running through its national history."

Dallas' own newspapers, the Times Herald and News, each called on the city's people to shake the nation and the world, keep calm.

"The events of the past few days are beyond belief," said the Times Herald. "Our city is cursed, disreputable assassin . . . left in the shocked depths of if we have faith in the law, we must let the law take its own deliberate course."

Although many of them were present, missing was the customary restlessness of the small-Tennessean. "Some called it old-fashioned justice," said the Nashville Tennessean. "Some called it poetic justice because someone shot him. Irony it may have been, Jack Kennedy."

The News said the people of Dallas "respect the law and the scales of justice. They abhor murder and grieve as any other community would grieve when tragedy leaves its dark clouds. . . . there is urgent need for the whole community to settle down to the business of normal living, to relieve its tensions and to banish any feelings of rancor and guilt."

"One crime, however monstrous, and however it may

Dabbed at Tears
A few older persons were seen to dab their eyes with handkerchiefs.

Although many of them were present, missing was the customary restlessness of the small-Tennessean. "Some called it old-fashioned justice," said the Nashville Tennessean. "Some called it poetic justice because someone shot him. Irony it may have been, Jack Kennedy."

The church was almost empty at a now and Father Keller returned to the sanctuary for a few brief minutes.

He said a few additional prayers for the young man he shall never see again.

Outside the church, the sun poked through the clouds briefly and then disappeared behind overcast skies. It seemed fitting for this day of world-wide mourning.

Two Men Hospitalized

Both Drivers Injured As 2 Trucks Collide

CHILTON—Two truck drivers in the ditch northwest of the were injured about 8 a.m. Sun intersection where the Hilbert day as a result of a collision at cheese company's truck struck a town road intersection a mile and knocked down a utility north and mile west of Hilbert pole. The truck driven by Thiel Arthur Thiel, 27, route 2, Hilbert, was demolished and the one bert, is being treated at Chilton-driven by Schmidt was badly met Memorial Hospital for chest damaged and leg injuries termed "serious." Heavy-duty wrecking equipment by a hospital spokesman ment was called and it took al-Thiel was driving a truck owned most three hours to remove the by the Cold Springs Cheese Co. smashed vehicles.

College Held Lincoln Service
Participants in the half-hour service were Rabbi Gilbert Silvestein of Moses Montefiore Synagogue who delivered the invocation; the Rev. Edward Dahl of the First Congregational Church who read the scriptures; the Rev. Monsignor Adam M. Grill of St. Mary's Catholic Church, who gave the prayer; and College President Curtis W. Tarr, who delivered a tribute to President Kennedy.

Both Trucks in Ditch
County police said Schmidt was traveling north and Thiel entered the intersection from the east. Both trucks wound up pled lad who had come to pray for the man who had meant much to many.

During the "Agnus Dei," that portion of the liturgy preceding the communion, the late president was referred to in the petition to God to, "Have mercy on him . . . grant him rest, grant him eternal rest," recited in Latin.

Minutes later, Father Keller gave the dismissal, again in Latin, used at masses for the dead: "May he rest in peace."

The mass for John Fitzgerald Kennedy had ended.

As church-goers filed from the building, many had that grief-stricken look . . . as if they had lost a member of the family.

The church was almost empty at a now and Father Keller returned to the sanctuary for a few brief minutes.

He said a few additional prayers for the young man he shall never see again.

Outside the church, the sun poked through the clouds briefly and then disappeared behind overcast skies. It seemed fitting for this day of world-wide mourning.

Music was provided by organist Daniel Smith, who chose selections of J. S. Bach for prelude and postlude; and by the Lawrence College Choir directed by Layahn Maesch. They sang two contemporary compositions — Igor Stravinsky's "Pater Noster" written in 1915, and "O Magnum Mysterium" composed by Francis Poulenc in 1952. As a benediction, the choir sang a setting of Cardinal John Henry Newman's 19th century prayer.

1960 Phone Call Summoned Lyndon Johnson to Destiny

John Kennedy Asked Tall Texas Senator to be His Running Mate

BY REILMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — At 8 o'clock on the morning of July 14, 1960, a ringing telephone summoned Lyndon Baines Johnson to his moment of destiny.

The call came from John F. Kennedy. A day earlier, Kennedy had defeated Johnson for the Democratic nomination for president. Now he said he wanted to talk with Johnson, but he didn't say why.

Two hours later, in Suite 7334, the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, Kennedy asked Johnson to take second place on the ticket.

Proud, Dynamic Man
Johnson is a proud, dynamic, driving man.

Moreover, as Senate majority leader—and an incredibly successful one—he commanded enormous power, far greater than that invested in the office of vice president.

Once there were two brothers, said Thomas R. Marshall, vice president to Woodrow Wilson. "One ran away to sea, the other was elected vice president, and nothing was ever heard of either of them again."

But Johnson arouses strong loyalties in others, and he gives his in full measure.

His own chances for the presidency were gone. If Kennedy won, the opportunity probably would not return again until a 1968, when he would be 60. He knew the degree of his importance, for eight years, would be determined by Kennedy. As a politician, he also knew that Kennedy needed help in carrying the South, and as a Southerner, that he could provide the political muscle.

"Let's Back Jack
And so he accepted second place. He told Kennedy that, henceforth, "LBJ" would signify "Let's Back Jack."

At 2:39 p.m. last Friday—three years, four months, and eight days later—Lyndon Baines Johnson was sworn in as the

Tot Run Over By Mother in Home Driveway

WAUPACA — Kenneth D. Klonowski Jr., 19 months, Ogdensburg, was fatally injured about 2:30 p.m. Saturday when he was run over by a car his mother was backing out of the driveway.

The child died about 3:15 p.m. in Waupaca Riverside community hospital.

Dr. Sam Salan, Waupaca County Coroner, said both wheels of the car passed over the boy. He said one wheel passed over his head and the other over his stomach.

Survivors include his parents, two sisters, a paternal grandmother, and maternal grandfather. Parents, great-grandmother and great-great-grandmother.

Private funeral services will be held Tuesday in the Holy Memorial Home, Waupaca.

F. L. Agrell, member of Old Appleton Family Succumbs in Oshkosh

OSHKOSH—Frederick L. Agrell, 79, Oshkosh businessman and member of an Appleton pioneer family, died at 12:55 p.m. Sunday after a short illness.

Masonic services will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in the Seefeld Funeral Home, Oshkosh, and the funeral will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday with the Rev. John Adams, pastor of First Methodist Church, Oshkosh, officiating. Burial will be in Lake View Memorial Cemetery, Oshkosh.

Agrell was the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Agrell. He was born Oct. 27, 1884, in Appleton. His father operated a tannery in Appleton in its early years. Agrell worked in the rug and drapery department of the Pettibone-Peabody Store for 20 years before establishing his own business, Agrell and Brueske, in Oshkosh in 1925.

Survivors include two sons, Cyril and Chester, both of Oshkosh; one daughter, Mrs. Jane Cutter, Peoria, Ill.; a brother, A. W. Agrell, Appleton; and seven grandchildren. Friends may call at the Seefeld Funeral Home, Oshkosh, after 4 p.m. today. A memorial for First Methodist Church, Oshkosh, has been established by the family.

be repeated. It didn't register. He already was phoning another man. Several telephone calls later, interspersed with instructions to several staff members, we got through the first question. Then I gave up, hoping for a better day.

Thus—prior to the heart attack at least—he was completely absorbed in his work. He said he had been too busy to read books, listen to music. If he pointment originally set up by Kennedy, Johnson heard a report from the U.S. ambassador to Saigon, Henry Cabot Lodge.

Policy Directive

1. The United States remains determined to help South Viet Nam stamp out the Communist Viet Cong.

2. Still in force is the Kennedy objective of withdrawing at least 1,000 U.S. servicemen from Viet Nam by the end of this year, and pulling out virtually the whole contingent of 16,000 men by January 1965.

3. All U.S. personnel in South Viet Nam should aid the new post-Diem Saigon government in its consolidation, in its development of public support for its policies and for winning the war against the Viet Cong.

Reynolds Calls At White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. John W. Reynolds of Wisconsin and his wife called at the White House Saturday to pay their respects to the late President John F. Kennedy.

The governor and his wife and Patrick Lucey, former Wisconsin Democratic chairman, flew from Madison Saturday on a Minnesota National Guard plane with Gov. Carl Rolvaag of Minnesota and his wife.

The Reynoldses and Lucey, also accompanied by his wife, viewed the casket Saturday afternoon and then went to the home of Postmaster General John Gronouski, former Wisconsin tax commissioner, where they planned to spend the night. The Reynoldses and Luceys will remain in Washington for the President's funeral Monday.

Officer Estimates 240,000 Filed Past Casket of Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands upon thousands of persons braved long hours in freezing weather to file past the casket of John F. Kennedy in the Capitol rotunda. Other thousands waited without success.

Charles J. Sullivan, chief of Capitol police, estimated 240,000 had moved past the bier of the slain President when the doors were closed to the public at 8:30 a.m.

At least 2,000 others, still waiting in a line stretching blocks away, were left stranded after standing for six to seven hours. Police steered them to vantage points around the Capitol plaza from which they could see the funeral procession leave for the White House.

The steady shuffle of feet had continued without a break from 3 p.m. Sunday through the afternoon and night as the crowds waited patiently for a chance to pay their last respects.

Former Vice President and Mrs. Richard Nixon were among the last to be admitted, along with a small group of officials' families and others, after the waiting line was halted.

OSHKOSH (AP) — The resignation of Robert L. Wollangk, vice president and treasurer of United States Motor Corporation at Oshkosh, was announced today by Rufus K. Schriber Jr., president of the firm.

Wollangk, 46, had been associated with the firm since 1942. U.S. Motors has an international business in production of engine generators.

Gun Scare Reported At Milwaukee Journal

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A gun scare caused police to search The Milwaukee Journal Building Sunday night but it was a dud.

Authorities were notified after a woman told of seeing a man carrying a rifle under his arm in the newspaper plant area. As a precautionary measure officers searched the five-story main building and annex but found neither the gun nor the man.

The incident came not long after The Journal turned out an extra edition on the slaying of the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy at Dallas.

Nixon Stock Growing as GOP Hopeful

BY JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility that Republicans may give former Vice President Richard M. Nixon a second crack at the presidency appeared to be growing today.

The assassination of John F. Kennedy and the ascension of Lyndon B. Johnson to the office has forced a radical reassessment by GOP strategists of the 1964 campaign.

Where once they conceded privately they had only an uphill chance of defeating Kennedy's bid for a second term, they now feel the odds are nearly even. They may be able to deny Johnson a first elective term.

For a race with Kennedy, many wanted to gamble on the theory that a conservative like Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., could defeat a Democratic liberal.

Now the Republican candidate is likely to face a Democrat identified in the public mind as a southern conservative. For this is how Johnson is viewed by many, despite the support he has given as vice president to the Kennedy legislative program and his efforts to shed the tag of sectionalism.

Nevertheless, the Republicans perceive a broad avenue leading toward the nomination of a man who can try to out-Johnson Johnson in being for positive action on civil rights and for prudent social welfare programs without having to bear the party umbrage of being a "me-too" candidate.

Johnson Orders Probe

But federal officials felt otherwise. President Johnson ordered a full government probe of Oswald's slaying, and the FBI proposed further investigation into the presidential assassination with the hope of eventually giving the American people the full story. Later, Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade listed what he said was a complete summary of the evidence against Oswald.

A wild tumult broke out immediately after the shooting of Oswald in the basement of City Hall. But it was nothing compared to the public uproar over the slaying.

Communist Charges

Communist propaganda organs abroad promptly depicted Oswald's death as a coverup to mask sinister rightist forces, which they blamed for the President's assassination. Moscow bitterly resented the linking of Oswald with communism.

Americans themselves disagreed over the shooting of the cold-eyed Oswald. Some thought he got what he deserved. Others noted that no matter the enormity of the crime charged against him, he still was entitled by law to his day in court.

Amid the furore, Ruby was booked on a murder charge and Dist. Atty. Wade announced he would press for his conviction and execution in the electric chair with the same vigor he had proposed to apply toward Oswald.

Oswald was arrested Friday, shortly after Kennedy's assassination and after the slaying of officer Tippit.

He insisted from the outset: "I did not kill President Kennedy. I did not kill anyone."

He stuck to this story during 48 hours of intensive questioning in temporary detention quarters in City Hall.

However, Wade said of his case against Oswald: "I have sent men to the electric chair with less evidence. The gun was here, his prints were on the gun, the gun was the gun that killed Kennedy, his palm prints were on the box on which the killer sat, and witnesses put him on the sixth floor at the time of the shooting."

Fired From Sixth Floor

The assassin fired on Kennedy from the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository building, which overlooked the route of the President's motorcade. Oswald was a warehouse employee of the firm.

Finally, police decided they would get no information from Oswald. They announced that he would be transferred by armored car from City Hall to a permanent maximum security cell in the Dallas County jail, about a mile away.

Some 200 newsmen and officials gathered in a basement ramp leading from a City Hall elevator to a driveway outside. Other curious spectators stood in bright sunshine outside to await Oswald's emergence.

Rushed to Hospital

Oswald, handcuffed, with detectives on either arm, came out of the elevator and took a few steps in the direction of the armored car parked halfway up the inclined ramp.

At that moment, the stocky, conservatively dressed Ruby lunged forward, stuck his pistol flush against Oswald's side and fired a single shot. The roar of the gun was somewhat muffled by its close proximity to the victim's body.

The bullet tore through Oswald's vital midsection organs, although it missed his heart. He was rushed to Parkland Hospital and into an emergency room only a few feet from the one where President Kennedy died.

Some of the same doctors who worked on the President tried just as desperately to save Oswald's life. Blood was administered. His chest was opened and his heart massaged by hand. But Oswald never regained consciousness and died at 1:07 p.m. The shooting occurred at 11:20 a.m.

Aroused to Suspicion

Ruby owns a strip tease joint, the Carousel, in downtown Dallas about four blocks from police headquarters, and a dance hall, the Vegas, further out.

His real last name was Rubinstein. Early in life he was nicknamed "Sparky" because of his volatile nature.

Ruby drove up to City Hall shortly before the Oswald shooting. His background had given him an extensive acquaintance among Dallas policemen and there seemed no apparent reason why his presence amidst officials should be restricted.

Afterwards, Dallas Police Chief Jess Curry explained why Oswald was being transferred in broad daylight.

He told newsmen: "If I hadn't promised you people I would not take Oswald until this morning, we would have taken him during the night. I told you I wouldn't back down on my pledge."

Strange Career Ended

Ruby's single shot ended a strange career for Oswald.

After serving without distinction in the U.S. Marines and receiving a discharge as an undesirable, the New Orleans-born, Communist-converted Oswald went to Moscow in 1959 and announced his intention to renounce his American citizenship and live in the Soviet Union.

Later, Oswald changed his mind. Because he never actually had received Soviet citizenship, he was allowed to return to this country in 1962. With him he brought a petite Russian blonde, whom he had married there and who bore him two children, one 4 years old and the other 22 months old.

All his life, Oswald was known as a loner. It was alone in a crowd that he fell prone on the basement floor of City Hall while pandemonium broke loose above his motionless body.

'Dies Irae' Sung At Solemn Mass For John Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—The mournful hymn "Dies Irae" (Day of Wrath) was sung Saturday at a solemn pontifical mass for President John F. Kennedy in St. Patrick's Cathedral. About 2,500 worshippers were present.

The last such mass at the cathedral was sung last June at the death of the late Pope John XXIII.

The mass included the Latin oration for the dead in which were the words: "Oh, God, whose nature is ever to give mercy and forbearance, we humbly entreat Thee for the soul of Thy servant, John, who at Thy bidding has today departed from this world."

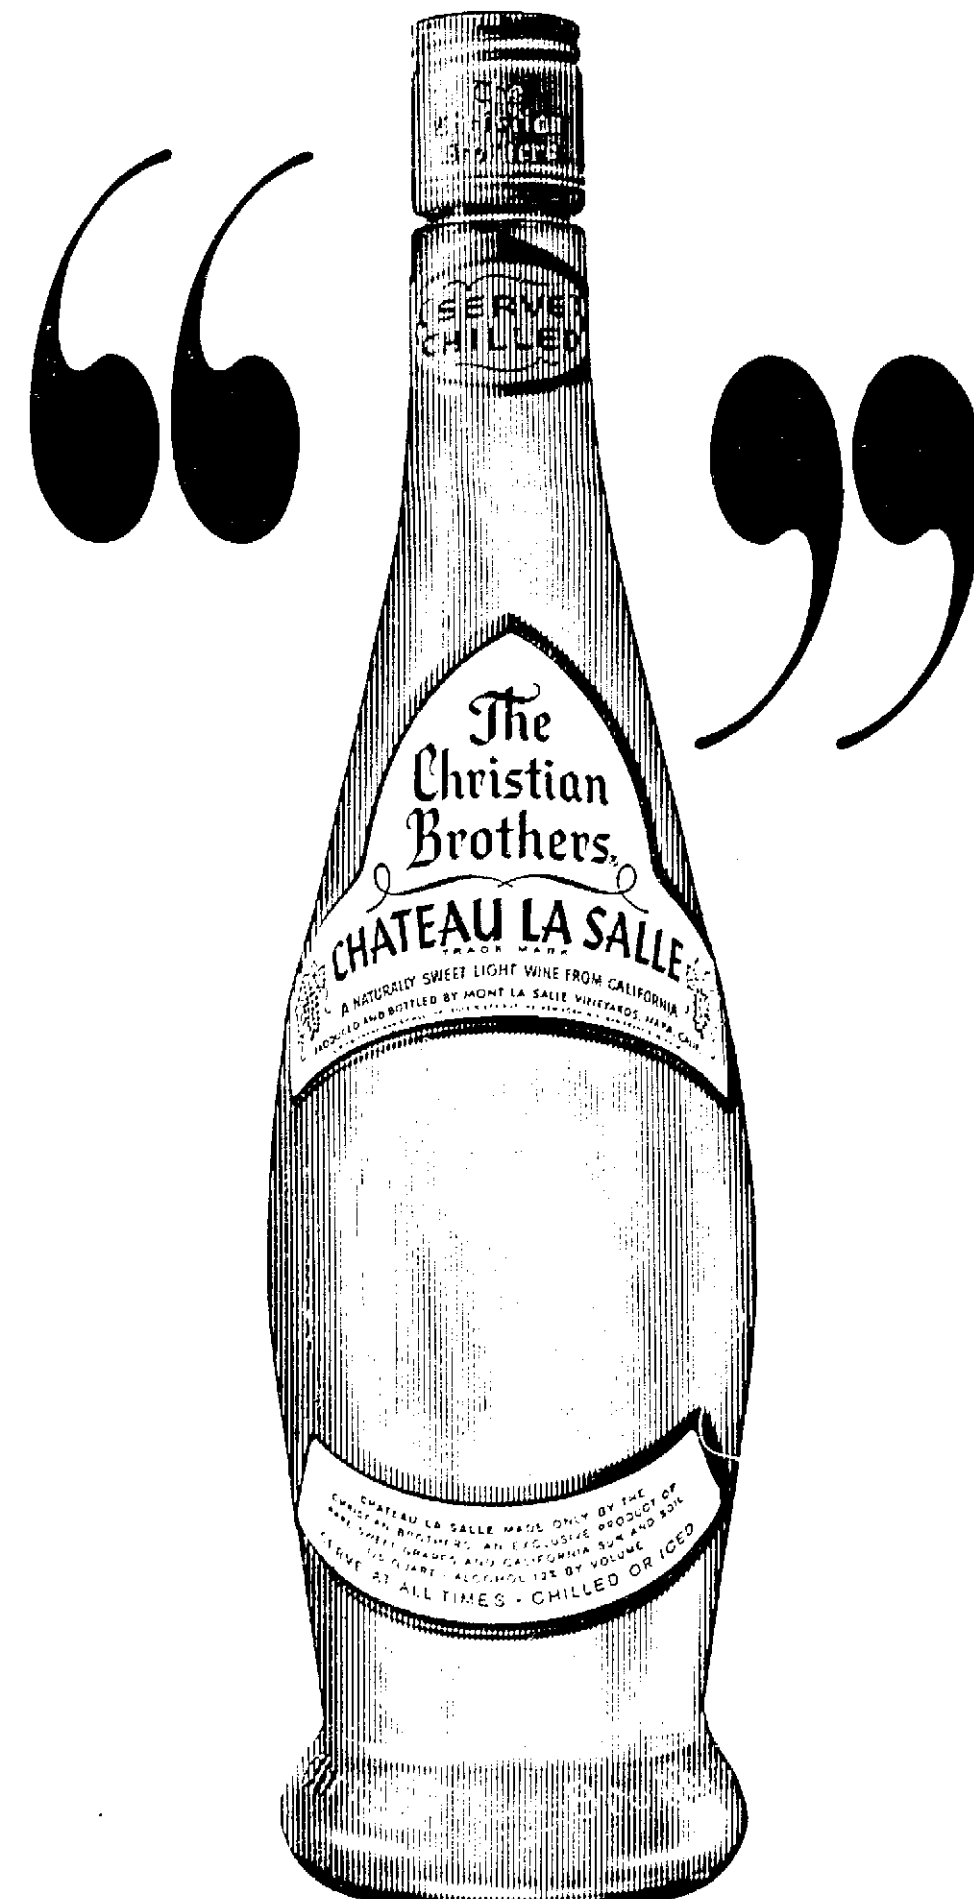

Some 250 monsignori, priests and seminarians took part.

The Most Rev. John J. McGuire, vicar general of the archdiocese, celebrated the mass in place of Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic Archbishop of New York who is attending the Ecumenical Council in Rome.

BY REILMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — At 8 o'clock on the morning of July 14, 1960, a ringing telephone summoned Lyndon Baines Johnson to his moment of destiny.

The call came from John F. Kennedy. A day earlier, Kennedy had defeated Johnson for the Democratic nomination for president. Now he said he wanted to talk with Johnson, but he didn't say why.

Two hours later, in Suite 7333, the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, Kennedy asked Johnson to take second place on the ticket.

The vice presidency? Second place? Proud, dynamic man Johnson is a proud, dynamic driving man.

"Once there were two brothers," said Thomas R. Marshall, vice president to Woodrow Wilson. "One ran away to sea, the other was elected vice president, and nothing was ever heard of either of them again."

But Johnson arouses strong loyalties in others, and he gives his in full measure.

His own chances for the presidency were gone. If Kennedy would, the opportunity probably would not return again until 1968 when he would be 60. He knew the degree of his importance, for eight years, would be determined by Kennedy. As a politician, he also knew that Kennedy needed help in carrying the South, and as a Southerner, that he could provide the political muscle.

"Let's Back Jack" And so he accepted second place. He told Kennedy that, henceforth, "LBJ" would signify "Let's Back Jack."

At 2:39 p.m. last Friday—three years, four months, and eight days later—Lyndon Baines Johnson was sworn in as the

Tot Run Over By Mother in Home Driveway

WAUPACA — Kenneth D. Klonowski Jr., 19 months, Ogdensburg, was fatally injured about 2:30 p.m. Saturday when he was run over by a car his mother was backing out of the driveway.

The child died about 3:15 p.m. in Waupaca Riverside community hospital.

Dr. Sam Salan, Waupaca County Coroner, said both wheels of the car passed over the boy. He said one wheel passed over his head and the other over his stomach.

Survivors include his parents, two sisters, a paternal grandmother, and maternal grandfather, great-grandmother, and great-great-grandmother.

Private funeral services will be held Tuesday in the Holy Funeral Home, Waupaca.

OSHKOSH—Frederick L. Agrell, 79, Oshkosh businessman and member of an Appleton pioneer family, died at 12:55 p.m. Sunday after a short illness.

Masonic services will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in the Seefeld Funeral Home, Oshkosh, and the funeral will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday with the Rev. John Adams, pastor of First Methodist Church, Oshkosh, officiating. Burial will be in Lake View Memorial Cemetery, Oshkosh.

Agrell was the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Agrell. He was born Oct. 27, 1884, in Appleton. His father operated a tannery in Appleton in his early years. Agrell worked in the rug and drapery department of the Pettibone-Peabody Store for 20 years before establishing his own business, Agrell and Brueske, in Oshkosh in 1925.

Survivors include two sons, Cyril and Chester, both of Oshkosh, one daughter, Mrs. Jane Cutter, Peoria, Ill.; a brother, A. W. Agrell, Appleton, and seven grandchildren. Friends may call at the Seefeld Funeral Home, Oshkosh, after 4 p.m. today. A memorial for First Methodist Church, Oshkosh, has been established by the family.

36th President of the United States.

He is the eighth vice president to be elevated to the White House through the death of a chief executive.

What manner of man is he?

Let him profile himself. He once said:

"I am a free man, an American, a U.S. senator and a Democrat in that order. I am also a liberal, a conservative, a Texan, a taxpayer, a rancher, a business-man, a parent, a voter."

To Lyndon Baines Johnson, the presidency of the United States came suddenly and startlingly on a sunny afternoon last week. But for most of his life, he had been preparing for leadership. Reuben Morim, Associated Press Publisher, Princeton, N.J., writes how a telephone call on July 24, 1960, summoned the Texas senator to become the Democratic candidate for vice president — a call that led him to the nation's highest office.

and not as young as I used to be, nor as old as I expect to be — and I am all those things in no fixed order."

He could have added that he is the descendant of Baptist preachers and educators, and that he has been a schoolteacher, a law student, a congressional secretary, a farm hand, a road worker, a janitor, a truck driver, a dishwasher, and a Navy lieutenant commander who received the Silver Star from Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

He has two dominant qualities — energy and focus.

As a senator, Johnson worked 14 and 16 hours a day. His day started at 6:30 a.m. with coffee, the New York and Washington newspapers, and the Congressional Record.

He would go to his office at 8, sometimes dictating to a secretary in the car.

In a day, it was not uncommon for him to receive 70 callers, 650 letters, 500 telephone calls. How does anyone know? His staff maintained a chart, a kind of box score, that showed the numbering statistics.

"Come on, let's function — let's function," he would say, when things seemed to be bogging down.

Lady Bird's Description

His wife, born Claudia Alta Taylor, and nicknamed "Lady Bird" by her Negro nurse, once said of him:

"At night he comes home dog-tired. We seldom go out. Lyndon says he can't put on a black or white tie every night and still do his job."

On July 2, 1955, a heart attack felled Johnson.

He stands 6-3 and he weighed 200 pounds at the time.

Convalescing he was ordered by his doctors to cut his weight, his habit of chain-smoking cigarettes, and his working hours.

He lost 25 pounds and stopped smoking. But he was soon back at the same working pace.

He is so focused, so highly concentrated, that when he has something on his mind he seems not to be able to leave it, even temporarily.

An incident —

Fidgets, Jurists

This reporter went to his office one day for a prearranged interview. Johnson had just won an important objective on the Senate floor. He could not sit still. He fidgeted and twisted behind his desk.

He seemed to listen to the first question but said, "Excuse me a second." Then he placed a telephone call. When he hung up, he asked that the question he repeated. It didn't register. He already was phoning another man. Several telephone calls later, interspersed with instructions to several staff members, we got through the first question. Then I gave up, hoping for a better day.

Wollank, 46, had been associated with the firm since 1942. U. S. Motors has an international business in production of engine generators.

Thus—prior to the heart attack at least—he was completely absorbed in his work. He said he had been too busy to read books, listen to music, if he started.

pointment originally set up by Kennedy, Johnson heard a report from the U.S. ambassador to Saigon, Henry Cabot Lodge.

Poliv Directive

1. The United States remains determined to help South Viet Nam stamp out the Communist Viet Cong.

2. Still in force is the Kennedy objective of withdrawing at least 1,000 U.S. servicemen from Viet Nam by the end of this year, and pulling out virtually the whole contingent of 16,000 men by January 1965.

3. All U.S. personnel in South Viet Nam should aid the new, post-Diem Saigon government "in its consolidation, in its development of public support for its policies and for winning the war against the Viet Cong."

Reynolds Calls At White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. John W. Reynolds of Wisconsin and his wife called at the White House Saturday to pay their respects to the late President John F. Kennedy.

The governor and his wife and Patrick Lucey, former Wisconsin Democratic chairman, flew from Madison Saturday on a Minnesota National Guard plane with Gov. Carl Rolvaag of Minnesota and his wife.

The Reynoldses and Lucey, also accompanied by his wife, viewed the casket Saturday afternoon and then went to the home of Postmaster General John Gronouski, former Wisconsin tax commissioner, where they planned to spend the night. The Reynoldses and Luceys will remain in Washington for the President's funeral Monday.

Officer Estimates 240,000 Filed Past Casket of Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands upon thousands of persons braved long hours in freezing weather to file past the casket of John F. Kennedy in the Capitol rotunda. Other thousands waited without success.

Charles J. Sullivan, chief of Capitol police, estimated 240,000 had moved past the bier of the slain President when the doors were closed to the public at 8:30 a.m.

At least 2,000 others, still waiting in a line stretching blocks away, were left stranded after standing for six to seven hours. Police steered them to vantage points around the Capitol plaza from which they could see the funeral procession leave for the White House.

The steady shuffle of feet had continued without a break from 3 p.m. Sunday through the afternoon and night as the crowds waited patiently for a chance to pay their last respects.

Former Vice President and Mrs. Richard Nixon were among the last to be admitted, along with a small group of officials' families and others, after the waiting line was halted.

Johnson's close friend, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., once said of him:

Best Combination

"Lyndon Johnson hasn't got the best mind in the Senate. He isn't the best orator. He isn't the best parliamentarian. But he is the best combination of all these qualities."

In his Senate office, Johnson had a large framed legend which said "You Ain't Learnin' Nothin' When You're Talkin'."

He is a good listener and he comes now to the greatest learning job in the world.

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility that Republicans may give former Vice President Richard M. Nixon a second crack at the presidency appeared to be growing today.

The assassination of John F. Kennedy and the ascension of Lyndon B. Johnson to the office has forced a radical reassessment by GOP strategists of the 1964 campaign.

Where once they conceded privately they had only an uphill chance of defeating Kennedy's bid for a second term, they now feel the odds are nearly even they may be able to deny Johnson a first elective term.

For a race with Kennedy, many wanted to gamble on the theory that a conservative like Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., could defeat a Democratic liberal.

Now the Republican candidate is likely to face a Democrat identified in the public mind as a southern conservative. For this is how Johnson is viewed by many, despite the support he has given as vice president to the Kennedy legislative program and his efforts to shed the tag of sectionalism.

Nevertheless, the Republicans perceive a broad avenue leading toward the nomination of a man who can try to out-Johnson Johnson in being for positive action on civil rights and for prudent social welfare programs

without having to bear the party umbrage of being a "me-too" candidate.

The Republican who ordinarily Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York would fit this description is New York.

Private School Federal Funds Drive Assailed

Public Education
Would be Loser,
Council Officer Says

BY G. K. HODENFIELD

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A prominent educator has charged that a vigorous campaign has been mounted in and out of Congress, to provide federal funds for private and parochial schools from kindergarten through college.

Edgar Fuller, executive secretary of the Council of Chief State School Officers, made the charge in his annual report to the council. The council adopted it in announcing in a closed convention session Thursday.

Active Campaign
Fuller said the campaign is active and gaining strength. Unless it is blunted the public schools will be financially undermined in thousands of American communities.

The council is an organization of state superintendents and commissioners of education from the 50 states and from U.S. possessions overseas.

The council, Fuller said, is committed by long-standing policy to oppose any legislation which would splinter the public tax dollar for distribution to private institutions of education at any level for the institutional use of the schools or colleges.

No Objection
The council does not object, Fuller said, to the use of federal funds by private colleges and universities "for such noninstitutional uses as research contracts, scholarships, fellowships and the like."

He singled out for particular criticism the powerful American Council on Education, the nation's leading spokesman for higher education, the leadership of the 860,000 member National Education Association, and a bill introduced in Congress by Rep. James Delaney, D-N.Y.

Catholic Efforts
He made no mention of the efforts of the Catholic Church hierarchy to secure federal funds for private and parochial schools.

Delaney's proposed legislation would authorize general federal payments to parents of private school children, and equal payments to public school districts for public school children.

The temptation, Fuller said, "would be for a predominantly Methodist community to establish Methodist schools, and for communities with concentrations of Lutherans, Jews, Muslims or other denominations to do the same."

Before Kennedy's Death

Business Was Ready For Expansion Drive

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Business seemed getting set to start another big expansion drive before the shock of President Kennedy's assassination.

Predictions for spending next year for new plant and equipment had ranged from a moderate increase to a possible 10 per cent boost.

Plans may be held up while industrialists assess the new business climate.

First Sign
But the first tangible sign of quickening business interest already has come in the language of dollars. Manufacturing firms have sharply boosted their appropriations for capital spending—such as 45 per cent in billion on new equipment or on some key industries. The total plant expansion, set aside as the highest since 1956, when the last big boom expenditures next year may run from 4 to 10 per cent higher.

The greater part of the actual The Department of Commerce's own survey of intentions for 1964 is due out this week. The most optimistic forecast so far has been for a $43 billion expenditure.

But the money-on-the-barrel-head appropriations, as tabulated by the National Industrial Conference Board, shows that in the July-September quarter money set aside by 602 corporations increased 19 per cent over the second quarter of the year. The total of $32 billion approaches the $33 billion back in the summer of 1955. In the 1955-56 boom, spending suddenly swelled by 22 per cent.

Industry Appropriations
Significantly perhaps, appropriations this summer by industries turning out durable goods increased 22 per cent over the April-June quarter. Bellwethers are the primary iron and steel firms, up 45 per cent; motor vehicles and equipment, up 35 per cent; fabricated metal products, up 70 per cent; instruments and photographic equipment firms, up 64 per cent.

Economists have been watching closely the trend of business spending because it is the third leg of the economy. The other two—consumer and government spending—have shown

Kennedy's Father

Remains at Home

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy grieved in the privacy of his summer home today as the rest of the nation paid final homage to his slain son.

Although pronounced fit to travel, the 75-year-old Kennedy elected to remain. His niece, Ann Gargan, and the Rev. John Cavanaugh, long-time friend and president emeritus of the University of Notre Dame, were with him.

Dr. Russell S. Boles, Boston neurologist, said the former ambassador displayed "tremendous courage" upon learning Saturday of his son's assassination. The family waited 21 hours after John F. Kennedy died before telling his father.

Kennedy suffered a stroke two years ago and has been confined to a wheelchair since.

A definite increase in business spending might give the economy the pepped up growth rate desired if more jobs are to be created.

Wreaths, Crowds Mark Spot Where Kennedy Was Shot in Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Two small wreaths lay in tragic display Saturday of the assassination of President Kennedy.

The wreaths were on a grassy slope a few feet from the spot building where the assassin's bullet waited. The sixth-floor window where the President in the head he fired from was still open.

A card on one spray said: "In memory of our beloved President, John F. Kennedy. From inside the bereaved citizens of Dallas." The other, signed by Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Stauser, said, "We are all so sorry."

Traffic moved slowly, bumper to bumper, by the site of the assassination.

Small knots of people stood around taking pictures of the building where the assassin had waited. The sixth-floor window where the President in the head he fired from was still open.

The building was locked. A memory of our beloved President, John F. Kennedy. From inside

Lawrence Says World Was Not Prepared for Sudden Change Was Act God's Sign For More Attention To Erratic Humans?

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Thomas Gray, in his classic "Elegy" of two centuries ago, wrote "The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power, and all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave, awaits alike the inevitable hour." But while life on earth is finite, neither the American people nor the people of the rest of the world were prepared last Friday to see the sudden transfer of presidential power in the United States that came in the wake of a hideous and unforgivable crime.

John F. Kennedy was a sincere man, a conscientious man—a public servant with a high sense of fidelity to his office and to the people. How can we explain the abrupt separation of the President at age 46 from service to his country? Why was he removed overnight from the international councils in which he sought so earnestly to carry forward the task of averting a nuclear war?

Pope Paul IV uttered in Rome his prayerful wish that the death of President Kennedy "may not hinder the cause of peace but may serve as a sacrifice and as an example for the good of all mankind."

Unfinished Tasks

God has taken from us a man in the prime of his life with tasks left unfinished, as a disheartened and distraught world goes into mourning. Could the meaning be that we who are left behind have not sensed the neglect of responsibility by people to find ways to eradicate inside each country the perils to human life, including the ravages of crime? Was this God's way of serving warning to us all that the erratic behavior of the mentally disturbed among us and of the delinquents in our society can no longer be given just cursory attention?

Why are rifles and revolvers sold to persons of dangerous impulse whose records betray symptoms or signs of mental attitudes that can lead to the destruction of their fellow men? Crime in America is growing, but there is a tendency to shrug it off as merely a consequence of an increasing population.

Security Measures

Government security measures now will come in for constructive criticism. But many a president disregards the need for some of the extra precautions. The secret service itself is powerless to do all that it wishes to do. If a president, for instance, insists on riding in an open automobile while campaigning in big cities, can not the technicians invent some transparent canopy for the vehicle that would really be bullet-proof?

The man arrested for the Unpleasant Surprise Awaits Man When He's Back From Honeymoon

SHERWOOD—James Brantmeier, route 2, Hilbert, has an unpleasant surprise waiting for him when he returns from his honeymoon.

Brantmeier's brother-in-law, Dilmar Wittman, was driving Brantmeier's car Saturday about a mile west of here when the auto got a flat tire. Wittman said he stopped, removed the tire and headed for a garage on foot.

He said while he was gone, the car caught fire.

Officials of the Town of Harrison fire department, who answered the alarm, said the vehicle was destroyed.

crime in Dallas — Lee Harvey Oswald — went to the Soviet Union in 1959, renounced his allegiance to the United States and gave back his passport. Yet later his trip back to this country was financed by the government of the United States itself. He then engaged in activities of a pro-Castro committee and he distributed literature which showed his sympathies with Marxism and Communism. Here was an erratic individual whose record was known to our government authorities in every detail. Should such a man have been permitted to buy lethal weapons?

The whole world was shocked by the crime. Many a person, including this writer, has been sick at heart these last few days over the act of the despicable criminal.

It was not, however, the first of such tragedies. There now have been four assassinations of presidents in office in this country. Each incident occurred in a public place. This writer was a public school student in Buffalo, N.Y., when President William McKinley was assassinated there just after finishing a public speech at the Pan American Exposition. There were few telephones then and, of course, no radio or television. It took two hours after the event for the nation to learn of the tragedy as newspaper extras flashed their big headlines to a stunned people. All of us were bewildered and depressed by what happened, and Mr. McKinley lingered on for several days before he passed away. The assassin was an anarchist — the forerunner of the present-day Communist subversive. He was later electrocuted.

Danger Recognized

While danger of other possible assassinations was recognized thereafter, public men began not many years later to take chances again. It has long been regarded by police experts as almost impossible to protect a president and other prominent figures against snipers firing from windows of high buildings.

It ill behooves anyone to attribute a motivation for such crimes as that in Dallas to any group or faction or political party in this or any other country. For each of the four assassinations of American presidents was the deed of a deranged man with a particular grievance of his own, his disordered mind bent on vengeance.

Lee Harvey Oswald was dishonorably discharged from the United States Marines in 1959. In January 1962 he wrote to John Connally, now governor of Texas but formerly secretary of the Navy, a letter in which he said, "I shall employ all means to right this gross mistake or injustice." Governor Connally was seriously wounded in the same burst of shots that killed President Kennedy. The murder of Oswald himself on Sunday was the passionate act of another vengeful man.

The tragic ending of the career of John F. Kennedy will serve to remind all of us that, while man is mortal and faces "the inevitable hour," our human society within the span of our lives can do more than has been done to isolate the mentally unbalanced who are permitted to buy rifles and pistols and roam at will menacing citizens on city streets and in their homes everywhere as crime products in America the highest number of victims in all our history.

No Conflict of Interest Seen In MGIC Deals

Firm's President Denies Concessions For Byrnes, Baker

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The president of the Mortgage Guaranty Insurance Corp., has told stockholders that the firm sees no conflict of interest in its dealings with either Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., or Robert G. Baker, former secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate.

"We see no conflict of interest in our dealings with either Mr. Baker or Congressman Byrnes," Max Karl wrote in a letter to stockholders in the firm and mortgage lending institutions, with which MGIC does business.

"The spectacular increase in the market value of our stock was the result of the widespread acceptance of a new concept of mortgage lending."

No Concession Karl added that neither Baker nor Byrnes received any special price concession in their purchases of MGIC stock. He said that at no time was Baker asked to do a favor for the company "and to the best of our knowledge he, in fact, did none." Karl said Byrnes was asked to assist in obtaining relief from a "very burdensome tax ruling." But he added that "never at any time while he (Byrnes) represented us was the suggestion made that he purchase stock."

Byrnes said in a House speech last week that he would sell his MGIC stock and contribute all but his original $2,300 investment to a scholarship fund. His stock earned a paper profit of about $20,000.

3 Appleton Men To Give Talks on Transportation

Three Appleton area men will speak at the November meeting of Delta Nu Alpha, a transportation fraternity to be held Tuesday at the Kimberly-Clark cafeteria in Neenah.

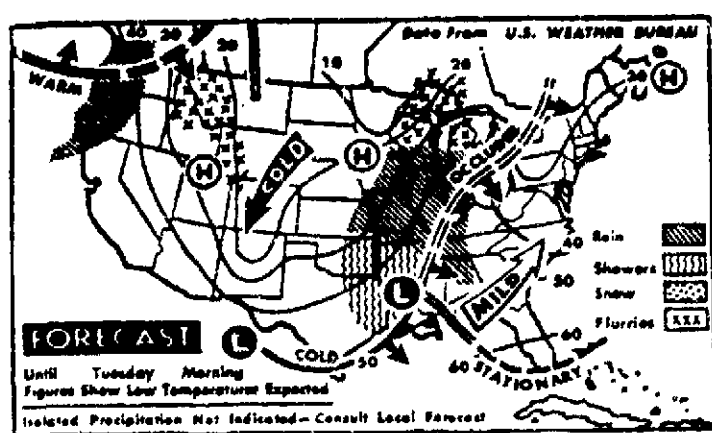

Norbert Leiberg, rate analyst, U.S. Plywood Corp., Green Bay, will speak on promotion of knowledge. John C. Borg, general traffic manager, Kimberly-Clark, has chosen traffic and transportation as business for his topic and Dan Sauve, assistant traffic manager for the Bergstrom Paper Co., will talk on Delta Nu Alpha and its affiliation with A.S.T. & T.

Primary purpose of this meeting is to inform the principals of schools throughout the area as to what traffic and transportation really means. Through this media the fraternity hopes to familiarize school counselors with transportation and encourage more students to enter the field.

The speeches will follow a dinner scheduled at 7 p.m.

Elkhorn Plant Plans Addition

ELKHORN (AP) — The Oak Manufacturing Co., which has a television tuner facility here, has announced plans for a plant addition. When completed the addition reportedly will require from 300 to 400 new workers.

E. A. Carter, president, said the demand for television tuners has necessitated the move.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Sister Catherine Berrissimo had looked forward with joy to her 100th birthday.

But, when the day came Sunday, the nun had received a greeting card bearing the signature of President John F. Kennedy. The card arrived Saturday, after the President had been assassinated in Dallas, Tex.

Kohler Company Hearing Slated

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A hearing in a civil contempt action, brought against the Kohler Co. by the National Labor Relations Board will start Tuesday at the Federal Building.

Retired Circuit Judge Edward M. Duquaine of Green Bay will hear the case and make recommendations to the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

The NLRB has charged the Kohler Co. with failing to comply with a court order to offer reinstatement to workers, who struck the plumbingware plant in 1954. The strike, longest in the nation's history, ended in June, 1960.

Mrs. Kennedy Mingles With Public at Bier

soon she was discovered and some followed after her party of police and Secret Service agents.

Decides on Details

It was learned Mrs. Kennedy personally had decided on many of the details of the presidential funeral, including the decision that the mourners would walk some eight blocks from the White House as was done at the funeral of Abraham Lincoln, the president slain almost 100 years ago.

Protocol and research experts had brought to the White House plans of the funerals of George Washington, Lincoln, Ulysses S. Grant, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt for guidance.

Mrs. Kennedy, who shared her husband's interest in history, agreed on the marching procession in the streets, a theme dating back to Washington's funeral.

Invitation to Cousin

Kennedy's Irish cousin, Miss Mary Ann Ryan in Dublin, was sent a special Kennedy family invitation, relayed by the U. S. Embassy, to come to the funeral. She had entertained Kennedy on his visit to his ancestral home at Dunganstown, Ireland, last summer.

All of the members of the President's family, except his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, 75, had gathered in Washington for the funeral.

His mother, Rose Kennedy, 73, flew from Hyannis Port, Mass., Sunday night and with other members of the family also went to kneel at the casket in the Capitol rotunda.

Joined By Relatives

Joining Mrs. Kennedy at the White House were the attorney general, his wife, Ethel, the President's sisters, Eunice Shriver, Patricia Lawford and Jean Smith, with their husbands, the President's youngest brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and his wife, Joan. Also Mrs. Kennedy's younger sister, Lee Radziwill, who flew here from London.

Mrs. Kennedy's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, who live in nearby Georgetown, were to be at the funeral.

While the President's funeral was under way here, a special private Mass was scheduled at the Cape Cod home of Kennedy's father, who is still suffering from effects of a stroke suffered in December 1961 and could not make the trip here.

State's Traffic Toll Now 795

Leaders of World Join Mourning Americans at Kennedy's Funeral

Lee Harvey Oswald begins to collapse as a bullet from the gun of nightclub owner Jack Ruby, fired at pointblank range, smashes into his abdomen in the Dallas city jail building Sunday. Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, died later. This dramatic

Slain Kennedy Killer Made Map of Crime, Paper Says

Lee Harvey Oswald Killed by Night Club Owner in Basement Of Dallas Police Headquarters

BY ARTHUR EVERETT world comment on the news re DALLAS Tex. (AP) — Lee port Harvey Oswald may have left behind in death a blueprint for it termed a reliable source as the assassination of President saving John F. Kennedy. This was a map of the City of Dallas Oswald had placed marks at major intersections along the motorcade route — three or four as I recall. There was also a line from the Texas School Book Depository Building to Elm Street. This was the trajectory of the bullets when struck the President and Gov. (John) Connally. The map may have constituted what police termed a major evidence against Oswald in Kennedy's assassination, but which they had refused to re-motorcade Friday. Neither the FBI nor the Secret Service ized Oswald marked spots on the map from which a sniper could get a good shot at the Kennedy motorcade. Meanwhile, from Mexico City came another report this time that Oswald visited the Soviet and Cuban consuls in September and tried to get a visa. The newspaper Excelsior attributed its report to a high official source which it did not name. Oswald died Sunday with a single bullet wound in the side, fired by Ruby as he stepped from a crowd of 200 in the basement of the Dallas City Hall. Slaver Disarmed. It's too good for him! someone shouted after the 24-year-old self-styled Communist dropped in his tracks, a simple cry of anguish escaping his lips. Police quickly overwhelmed and disarmed Ruby. It was an incredible climax to the wildest weekend in Dallas history—a savage sudden mo-

Security of Visitors Is Staggering. Making the task that much more difficult was the fact that many of them worked in the White House. Behind Kennedy's casket, from the White House to St. Mathias Roman Catholic Cathedral, several locks away. To know a secret of protection about them, officials used a maximum security plan drawn several months ago just in case for guarding the room dignitaries in and around the cathedral. Army security of jets, Secret Service agents and metropolitan police devised the elaborate arrangements last spring. Church officials recalled against an effort that the church might be required for an emblem of importance.

Mrs. Kennedy Mingles With Public at Bier

Decides on Many Details Regarding Husband's Funeral

BY FRANCES HAWNE WASHINGTON, AP — Mrs. John F. Kennedy went back for a look at her husband's casket in the Capitol rotunda and pleading, 'Let me walk, let me walk, muffled with crowds that mourned the slain President. The 44-year-old widow of President Kennedy seemed reluctant to leave his casket. With her two children, she had come in a funeral procession Sunday to leave the President's body to be in state in the Capitol for public viewing by many thousands. Return in Evening Mrs. Kennedy, with her daughter Caroline beside her, had knelt and kissed the casket before she departed about 2:30 p.m. Expectedly, she was back about 9 o'clock Sunday night on the arm of her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, as long lines of people waited to pass the President's bier. She walked slowly by the casket area and once again knelt and kissed the coffin. She had left it at the Capitol Mrs. Kennedy had moved near her husband's body, since he was slain in Dallas Friday afternoon. Looks At Crowd On her sudden nighttime re-appearance, the slow-moving crowd came to a halt. When Mrs. Kennedy rose, she turned her tear-stained face and looked for a long moment at the faces of those who came to pay their respects to her late husband. As she and the attorney general left, Mrs. Kennedy seemed to be searching intently at the faces of the incoming throng. 'Let me walk, let me walk,' he said as he descended the Capitol steps. At first Mrs. Kennedy went unrecognized, but

53 Countries Send Their Statesmen to Cathedral

WASHINGTON, AP — A sorrowing nation — and statesmen from around the globe — said farewell to the martyred 35th President today and commended to God the soul of the slain John. Hundreds of thousands, many of them weeping, watched as Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widowed so young, followed the caisson part of the way on foot. Bravely she walked between Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy on her right and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy on her left. A black veil covered the beautiful face and draped the shoulders. The new President, Lyndon B. Johnson, and his wife, Lady Bird, walked behind the Kennedys. At the great stone steps of St. Matthews Cathedral — scene of the requiem mass, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston awaited her, his tall mitre shining in the crisp autumn air. By then, Jacqueline Kennedy had beside her her two small children, Caroline and John, dressed in blue, who had ridden to the great church. The Cardinal leaned over and laid his hands on their shoulders as if in blessing. A few ranks behind Mrs. Kennedy strode one of the greatest assemblages of world statesmen ever seen. They came from 53 countries and included 26 heads of state or government. File Into Cathedral Towering above them all was the figure of President Charles de Gaulle of France in his olive drab uniform. Quickly behind Mrs. Kennedy, the great from abroad filed into the cathedral. There was Prince Philip of Britain, his band of Queen Elizabeth, Queen Frederika of Greece, and many others who had come from thousands of miles. Behind them came the U.S. Supreme Court, the Cabinet, federal officials, White House staff men. Just before the flag-covered casket was carried into the cathedral a band played, 'Hail to the Chief.' Then softly on the autumn air came the strains of hymns. Bagpipes Play And during the slow final journey, the sound of bagpipes was heard — from the Black Watch Pipers who were among the dead President's musical favorites. At the Capitol, 210,000 persons filed past the bier before the funeral procession. The great copper dome of St. Matthews Cathedral, blue-green from decades of weathering, glowed in a crisp, clear day. It was the cortege approached it for the requiem Mass. As the procession came by the White House on the way to the cathedral, the Marine band played a huge, far-flung strains of 'Onward Christian Soldiers' had filled the air. Shawano Library Wins $1,000 Award

SHAWANO — The Shawano County-City Library has been named one of 45 small public libraries throughout the nation to receive annual Book-of-the-Month club awards.

Given in memory of Dorothy Canfield Fisher, the Shawano award amounts to $1,000. Ten national award winners also were announced. From these, nine will receive $1,500 honorable mentions and one will be given a $5,000 national award.

The Public Library Association, a division of the American Library Association, established the criteria and selected the winners from applications screened by state library agencies.

The program is open to all libraries serving populations of 25,000 or less in the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Recent Increase In Shipments Sparks Engineers' Proposal

OSHKOSH — Because of the growth of air cargo in recent years and the anticipated heavy increase in such shipments in future years, establishment of an air freight terminal at the Winnebago County Airport has been suggested.

The recommendation was included in the engineering study report of Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff, consulting engineers, to the aviation committee of the Winnebago County Board.

Although quite small in comparison to cargo transport by rail, water and highways, air cargo has developed at a very rapid pace in recent years, the engineers stated. They cited that new airplanes were being designed specifically for air cargo service.

Air mail shipments at the Winnebago County Airport increased 26 per cent in 1962 and air cargo increased 47 per cent. Additional increases of 8 per cent and 28 per cent, respectively, have been indicated for the first part of this year, the consultants pointed out.

The engineering firm projected future growth at a conservative 12 per cent per year. Air mail tonnage last year came to 120.3 tons and the consultants estimate this will be 265.8 tons in 1970 and 468.4 tons in 1975, based on the 12 per cent per year increase.

133 Per Cent Jump
Cargo tonnage took a 133 per cent jump in 1959 when it reached 113.3 tons and has increased steadily to 268.8 tons last year. The engineering firm projects the cargo tonnage to be 596.6 tons in 1970 and 1,051.4 tons in 1975, using the conservative 12 per cent increase per year ratio.

Recognizing the great potential in air cargo, the engineers pointed out, an area is being recommended for future construction of a freight terminal building. This area is near the present Kimberly-Clark Corp. hangar. Space also is reserved in its suggested long-range plan for future industrial hangars, with an access road connecting this area to the passenger terminal.

Recommendations of the consultant firm in with the projected plans of the City of Oshkosh which has established an industrial park area southeast of the airport along the Oregon Street road and State Highway 26. This industrial park would be convenient to rail, highway and air transport facilities. The Soo Line touches this area and the Chicago and North Western tracks are not far away.

The consulting engineers did not include in their $2.6 million cost estimate for the airport development any cost for a freight terminal or for industrial park or industrial hangar facilities. They did include an estimate of $20,000 for the access road from the industrial hangar area to the passenger terminal area.

Santa to Visit Waupaca Dec. 7

WAUPACA — Santa Claus and his reindeer are expected to arrive in Waupaca and be at the Waupaca Association of Commerce information booth from noon to 5 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 7, according to Douglas Hadley, chairman of the retail committee.

Hadley announced stores in the business district will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. starting Friday, Dec. 13. The stores will close at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 24.

Santa Claus will be at the information booth each night the stores are open with the exception of the Saturdays when he will be there from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Elroy Kalies, 33, Appleton, Struck By Shotgun Slug

CHILTON — The condition of Elroy Kalies, 33, 1622 E. John St., Appleton, who was wounded by a shotgun slug while hunting deer west of Hilbert Saturday morning, is reported as "improved" by a Calumet Memorial Hospital official today.

Kalies had shot a deer about 7:40 a.m. and was bending over to dress it out when he was wounded. Carl Kalies was "some distance away and his view of the other hunter was obscured by willows and brush," the investigation report indicates.

The slug struck Kalies' wallet and lodged in his hip. No bones were shattered. The bullet was removed during surgery Saturday and the hunter's condition was still listed as "serious" Saturday night. He has been removed from the serious list, the hospital reported.

Manawa Society Hears Deanery Chairman

MANAWA—Mrs. Walter Klapper Jr., deanery chairman of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, spoke at the November meeting of Sacred Heart Altar Society.

Mrs. Howard Griffin and Mrs. John W. Carew, delegates to the convention of Catholic Women in Green Bay in October, reported on the meetings they had attended.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party. Each member will donate 50 cents for the St. Joseph's Orphanage at Green Bay instead of the usual exchange of gifts. Mrs. Lowell Prellwitz and her committee will have charge of the party. The society is selling Christmas cards after masses each Sunday.

They voted to purchase four Bibles, two each, for the Little Wolf Rest Home and the Manawa Convalescent Home.

Waupaca Joins Nation in Mourning President Kennedy

Churches Sate Special Services, Stores Close, Flags Flown at Half Staff in Respect

WAUPACA — Special church services, closed stores, children with tears in their eyes and flags at half-staff were symbolic of the grief felt in Waupaca over the death of President John F. Kennedy.

Children in the first and second grades as well as their older classmates and some adults cried a little Friday afternoon when the first news of President Kennedy's assassination reached here.

When schools closed, children ran home to tell their parents, "the President is dead." Their teachers had announced the great tragedy at school and "Linda, Jimmy and Carol cried."

Most people were too shocked to function properly when they first heard the news. One businessman said he felt sick and left to go home. Only to return a few minutes later to say he did not think it would help to go home.

Public Mourning

First sign of public mourning came from the courthouse Friday afternoon when it was decided to close Monday in respect for President Kennedy.

Word spread to the city hall and both city and county employees named Monday as a day of mourning before the official word was received from President Lyndon Johnson.

Clergymen went into action next and scheduled special services Saturday. The Rev. Michael Wasniewski offered a requiem high mass and scheduled a parish rosary.

Most clergymen announced special services to be held today to their congregations Sunday morning.

Mayor Lloyd Matheson and Robert Knerr, president of the Waupaca Association of Commerce, announced Sunday merchants were urged to close their CLINTONVILLE — More than 100 deer had been registered at Jacoby's service station here by 7 p.m. Sunday since the opening of the season Saturday.

Valparaiso Guild

CLINTONVILLE—The Valparaiso Guild will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at St. Martin Lutheran Church basement.

Requirements for Aid Project Listed by Congregationalists

CLINTONVILLE—The Friendly Service Material Aids project deadline is Dec. 1 at Christ Congregational Church.

Sunday school children will bring Christmas gifts for children between the ages of one and 12 years, games, toys, dolls, soft stuffed toys, blocks, books, paper dolls, sewing kits, modeling clay, toy autos, toy trucks and the type of gifts boys may play with alone.

Other items requested are pillow cases, bath towels, hand towels, wash cloths, men's bathrobes and pajamas.

Mrs. Harold Danner is project chairman.

Marion Schools Will Close on Wednesday

MARION—All schools in Joint District 3 will close for Thanksgiving vacation at the regular time Wednesday and re-open at the regular time Monday.

Car Fire Extinguished

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville Volunteer Fire department was called about 5:10 p.m. Friday to extinguish a car fire caused by a short in the wires. The car was owned by Philip A. Shawano, League members are Larnino, Clintonville, and was near the post office at the time of the fire.

Two Men Hospitalized

Both Drivers Injured As 2 Trucks Collide

CHILTON—Two truck drivers were injured about 8 a.m. Sunday as a result of a collision at a town road intersection a mile north and mile west of Hilbert.

Arthur Thiel, 27, route 2, Hilbert, is being treated at Calumet Memorial Hospital for chest and leg injuries termed "serious" by a hospital spokesman.

Thiel was driving a truck owned by the Cold Springs Cheese Factory.

Hit $140,000 In Hospital Drive

WAUPACA — Funds donated to the Riverside Community Memorial Hospital expansion drive have climbed to $140,000 with the additional $14,000 added last week, according to Paul Niles, drive chairman.

Niles reported the additional funds are encouraging in view of the construction progress being made on the building additions.

Contracts for the work total $185,000, but the entire project is expected to cost about $200,000. Niles reported this leaves the fund short by $50,000 to $60,000.

Embarrass Motorist Pays Fine for Hitting Clintonville Policeman

CLINTONVILLE — Cleon L. Wintler, 39, Embarrass, paid a $75 fine for inattentive driving after an accident at 5:05 p.m. Friday when his car struck Police Officer Henry Steenbock, 30, who was directing traffic at the intersection of 12th and Main streets.

Steenbock was taken to the Clintonville Community Hospital. He has a fractured right leg and a back injury.

Leading Chilton Citizen Sought

Residents Being Screened for Coveted Award From Chamber

CHILTON — A special committee has been appointed by the Chilton Chamber of Commerce to screen a list of Chilton residents to be considered for "Citizen of the Year" honors.

The coveted award given annually at the Chamber's annual banquet in early January goes to a citizen or citizens distinguished for civic contributions to the area.

Howard Schuch, Robert Lutz and Arvin Courice comprise the screening committee. They were appointed by President William Engler and make their recommendations to the board at the annual meeting.

A special committee, appointed by Engler named Judge D. H. Scherer, Robert Macdonald and Claude Weber, is conducting a campaign to procure a large number of candidates for the award.

The committee will turn its nominations over to F. J. Fagan, secretary, for preparation of a mailed ballot in December.

The annual Christmas home decorating contest was again approved as a Chamber project and contest rules were outlined. Decorated homes will be judged in two divisions with the winners of the past three years in one group and non-winners and those who won four or more years ago in the other group.

A total of $50 has been appropriated for prizes, $25 to each division. Prizes will be $10, first; $7.50, second; $5, third, and $2.50, fourth.

Industry Day
The recent industry day tour by Chilton High School seniors was a complete success, it was reported. Flanagan said the cooperation by the industries and the attitude of the touring students were lauded by officers and directors.

A better location for the new church service sign along U.S. 151 west of here is to be sought. The sign, the latest to be installed by the group, is now amid several other signs which detract from it. Time scheduling of worship services in the city's churches are displayed on the signs.

The need for more membership was stressed.

Three Kimberly Students Earn Straight A Marks

KIMBERLY — Darrell Larson, principal of Kimberly High School, announced three students had achieved straight A or 4.00 grades at the end of the first quarter while 25 had achieved a 3.5 or better grade point.

Straight A grades were hit by Alice Van Helvoirt, a senior, Ruth Volights, a junior, and Mary DeBruin, a sophomore. Other seniors with high grade points are Gayle Bergeron, Marilyn Kuhn, Mary Mantel, Diane Van Handel and Margaret Wevers.

Other juniors are Diane Armbrage, Vicki Bevers, Gail Bort, Kay Davidson, Cheryl Hantsch, Betty Kuhn, Jay Pogue, Nancie Rennebohm, Joan Shonen, Pat Stuebenberg, and George Sylvester.

Other sophomores are Martha Hopfensperger, Nancy Liehen, Mary Ann Schmidt, Karen Spry, Greg Tennerman and Antoinette Van Hout.

10 Arrests Made At Clintonville for Game Violations

CLINTONVILLE—State Conservation Warden Jack Kunath reported Sunday night that 10 arrests had been made over the weekend for such violations as hunting unregistered deer, hunting without wearing red clothing, transporting a loaded gun, transporting un-used gun, in the ditch northwest of the hunting deer area, possession of illegal cheese company's truck struck deer and transporting Christmas and knocked down a utility tree without Christmas tree license.

Kunath also said that more than 15 deer had been brought in that were illegally killed unregistered or car-killed.

Working with Kunath during the deer season are five state wardens and four county wardens. The wardens had a road block set up on S. Main Street Sunday night to check out hunters and their deer.

Garden Club Meeting Today

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville Flower and Garden Club will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Senior High school agriculture department.

Wisconsin Indians is the topic of the meeting. The program will be presented by Mrs. Russell Weller, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Danner and Mrs. Fred Zellmer.

Prizes will be contributed by Mrs. L. P. Polshok, Miss Louise Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Max Stieg.

Lunch will be served by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Chandler, and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Cooper.

Hospital Residents' Party Set

FREMONT — Plans for a Christmas party for residents at King hospital were made by the Waupaca County Red Cross Gray Ladies with Frank Haffner, Weyauwega, Waupaca County Red Cross chairman and Arthur Larson, Waupaca, past chairman, speakers at the planning session Wednesday. Mrs. Hilda Abraham will be chairman of the committee arranging the program and gifts for the Dec. 11 event.

Gray Ladies combined the meeting with a Christmas party of their own at which the auction of Christmas wrapped gifts replaced the exchange of presents. The entire proceeds from the sale were donated to the Red Cross fund.

Mrs. Hilda Abraham was hostess to 18 members from Waupaca, Weyauwega and Fremont at her home Wednesday.

Fifteen Attend Friends' Night At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Fifteen guests attended Friends' night of Fidelity Rebekah Lodge No. 68 Tuesday night at the Odd Fellows hall. Ten Rebekahs were present from Green Bay and five from Waupaca.

A special program was presented with Mrs. John A. Johnson, chairman. Eight women of the Moose gave a skit entitled, "Don't Open Until Christmas." Those who participated were Mrs. Chester Kasten, Mrs. George Olsen, Mrs. Bernard Eberhardy, Mrs. Roland Laatsch, Mrs. Lloyd Hanschke, Mrs. B. Krueger, Mrs. Jerry Esler and Mrs. Albert Pagel.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Lloyd Bussian, Mrs. John A. Johnson, Mrs. Ernest Bussian, Mrs. George Bothwell, Mrs. S. A. LaViolette, Mrs. William Schmidt, Mrs. Orville Kuckuk and Mrs. Allie Hill.

Clintonville Bridge Winners

CLINTONVILLE — Seven and one-half tables of duplicate bridge were in play Wednesday night at the Hotel Marson.

The North-South winners were Mrs. Roy Spearbraker and Mrs. John Buehrens, first; Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Larson, second, and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Olk, third, all of Clintonville.

In East-West play, tied for first were Mr. and Mrs. Al Torborg and Mrs. Orval Malueg and Mrs. William Gould, and next were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lauer, all of Clintonville.

Waupaca VFW Plans Christmas Baskets to Needy

WAUPACA — Plans to donate Christmas baskets to needy families were completed during a meeting of the Waupaca Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary at the Veterans' Club.

Mrs. Henry Weigel and Mrs. Ralph Hanson were named co-chairmen of the basket program.

The auxiliary voted donations to the health-and-happiness fund and the ways-and-means quota. The quarterly birthday party honored members with birthday cards in October, November and December. Winners of prizes were Mrs. Guy Davis, Mrs. Weigel and Mrs. Harry Townsend. Mrs. John Porod was hostess.

The Dec. 16 meeting will be the Christmas party with a $1 gift exchange and potluck lunch.

Richard Beil on EWC All-Conference Team

MARION — Marion High School senior Richard Beil again has been named all-conference.

A book report was given by first team guard and was awarded a defensive honorable mention by the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

Next meeting will be Dec. 1. Conference. Last year, Beil also was cited following a corporate com- as an all-conference offensive se- mion at the 7:30 a.m. mass. lection.

Fremont School PTA Sponsors Contributions

FREMONT — Project contributions to the Fremont Grade School are being sponsored by the PTA.

Presentation of new radios to each of the teachers in five class rooms completed the project headed by Olin Mead and Laurence Stevens.

A new project sponsoring band uniforms for the grade school band will be directed by Arden Schmoldt. Robert Koepel of the Union High School, Weyauwega, addressed the membership suggesting the project could begin with "semi-uniforms" of caps and sweaters.

Colored slides and commentaries of his trip in Russia were presented by Otto Neuman, tri- county superintendent of schools. Hostesses for the Thursday evening meeting were Mrs. Vernon Oehlke, Mrs. Verlyn Burrow and Mrs. David Kinsman.

2 Cars Sideswipe On U. S. 10 West Of Waupaca

WAUPACA — Two cars were damaged about 3:05 p.m. Thursday in a sideswipe accident on U.S. 10, one-fourth mile from Sheridan, the sheriff's office reported.

Melvin L. Johnson, 44, Lake Bluff, said he was going east and passing a truck when he saw a car approaching from the other direction. He told the sheriff's department he was unable to pull back into his own lane of traffic in time to avoid an accident.

William Harness Jr., 23, route 1, Neenah, was the driver of the other car. Combined damages were estimated at $1,200.

Couple Visits With Parents in Nichols

NICHOLS — Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kendal, Greenville, Ill., will spend several months here at the home of Mrs. Kendal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilkinson.

The Kendals have just completed a period of home mission duties in Eastern United States. They are both graduates of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago. Both will return to full-time mission work in the spring.

Homemakers Set Christmas Party

CLINTONVILLE — The Hobby Homemakers' Club met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Elnora Miller, 122 Brix St.

The lesson, "Entertaining With An A Plus," was given by Mrs. Herbert Lichtenberg and Mrs. Matt Dahm.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas dinner party Dec. 14 at Giese's Three Elms.

The next regular club meeting will be in January at the home of Mrs. Lichtenberg.

Kennedy Requiem Mass in Cathedral publican Leader Everett M. Dirksen headed a group from Congress.

The youthful President, who sought peace in an age of hot and cold wars, found his own peace beside the nation's heroes in Arlington National Cemetery—in a grave overlooking the memorial of another martyred president, Abraham Lincoln.

Not since the burial of the Unknown Soldier 40 years ago has there been such a gathering in Washington.

And many, if not all, of the 100 or so dignitaries—including Prince Philip and Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home of Britain—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany—joined the grieving Mrs. Kennedy in a somber procession that walked behind the horse-drawn caisson bearing Kennedy's body to St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Cathedral.

Must Have Invitations
Because of the space limitations, only those with invitations will be allowed up the 13 steps and into the dark-red brick church.

But in a moving display of sorrow and affection, Americans might and humble paid their respects to their slain leader by the hundreds of thousands.

They choked the sidewalks along Pennsylvania Avenue and flooded the capitol grounds Sunday as the late President's body was carried past them on a caisson drawn by six horses. Then came the dark riderless horse, with empty cavalry boots reversed in the stirrups, the traditional symbol of a slain warrior.

March to Capitol
And after the procession passed, the crowd of spectators broke through the police lines and by the thousands marched silently up the broad avenue to the white capitol crowning Capitol Hill.

All night and into the morning a double line three and four abreast passed the bier with its guard of honor under the rotunda.

Still at 4:30 a.m. the line stretched some five miles and police estimated 85,000 persons were still waiting, bundled against the 35 degree chill.

Some cried. Some carried children in arms to let them have a brush with history.

But even as the crowds waited along Pennsylvania Avenue for the start of the procession Sunday a new shock whispered through the throngs:

Lee Harvey Oswald, the 24-year-old Marxist and ex-Marine charged with killing Kennedy, was himself shot down and died in an emergency room at Dallas' Parkland Hospital, not 10 feet from where Kennedy had died Friday.

Inquiry Ordered
Oswald breathed his last shortly after the late President's body was carried by nine servicemen into the Capitol.

But for President Johnson, the case was not closed. He ordered the FBI to make an investigation into Oswald's killing in the Dallas jail basement by a self-appointed executioner, Jack Ruby, the operator of a Dallas strip joint.

As Oswald slumped to the floor clawing at his stomach one of the 200 jamming into the basement shouted: "It's too good for him."

Eulogy by Warren
Not long after Oswald died hundreds of miles away, Mrs. Kennedy, her eyes shadowed by fatigue and grief, stood with livered by the late President's congressional leaders. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and House Speaker John W. McCormack, the tall white-haired Bostonian who had watched the Harvard-educated millionaire's son move swiftly up from House to Senate to White House.

"We must thank God," said Earl Warren speak these words in eulogy to the late President: "If we really love this country; if we truly love justice and mercy; if we fervently want to make this nation better for those who are to follow us, we can at least abjure the hatred that consumes people, the false accusations that divide us and the bitterness that begets violence."

Other Tributes
Is it too much to hope that the martyrdom of our beloved President might even soften the hearts of those who would them- selves recoil from assassina- tion, but who do not shrink from spreading the venom of those who came to pay their respect, she once again knelt and kissed her husband's casket.

John Jr. had also accompanied his mother and sister to the services, but too young to understand fidgeted and finally had to be led away. His third birthday is today.

And then at the end, Mrs. Kennedy walked up to the closed coffin with little Caroline beside her. She knelt and kissed it.

Later in the night and alone except for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, she returned and since the fiscal year started on July 1 and comes before the House Tuesday.

Jan. 3 is the date for opening of the next session of the present Congress.

"We should expedite what we have to do and adjourn," Halleck said in an interview. "Let's give the new President time to get his feet on the ground."

The vehicle for Halleck's ad- vance is a resolution to provide temporary financing for federal agencies whose ap- propriations for the present fis- cal year have not been made.

It is the fourth such resolution since the fiscal year started on July 1 and comes before the House Tuesday.

The new measure would provide funds for the month of December. Halleck will attempt to change the date probably to next Jan. 31 on the assumption that Congress could dispose of other necessary measures between now and Dec. 14.

Democratic leaders already have all but officially given up hope of action this year on civil rights and tax legislation but feel that Congress should remain in session as long as there is any chance for action.

Johnson Writes to Kennedy Children

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first two letters Lyndon B. Johnson signed as President were to the two children whose father is buried today.

The letters to Caroline Kenne- dy, 6 years old Wednesday, and John F. Kennedy Jr., 3 years old today, told them at the be- ginning they perhaps are too young to understand it all now.

Johnson wrote them last Friday just after his return from Texas and only hours after he had been sworn in to suc- ceed their slain father in the highest office of the nation.

was at stake in its ability to serve the world."

Msgr. James E. Kelly, recot of St. John's Cathedral in Mil- waukee, declared that Mr. Ken- nedy led the nation in a troubled era, with many crises "of na- tional and world - wide im- portance."

The manner in which he met these difficulties, trials and per- secutions proved the character abilities, the great stature of this fearless, dedicated man," he said.

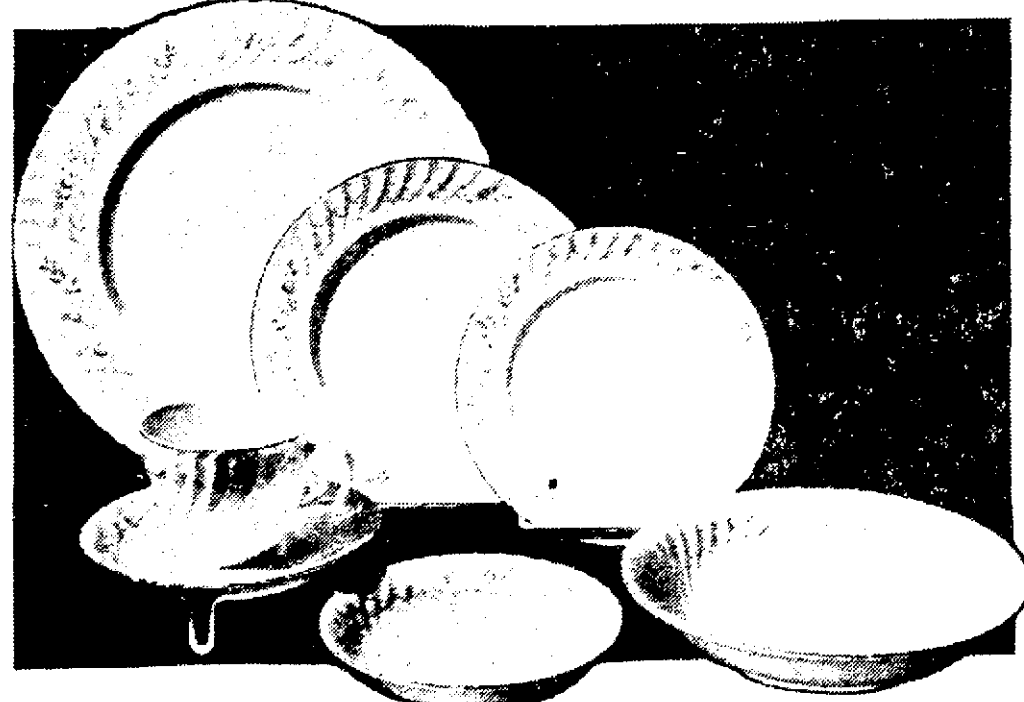

Bewildering Story

The bewildering, nightmarish story which began Friday when Mr. Kennedy was cut down by an assassin's bullets continued in Dallas Sunday when the ac- cused murderer of the Presi- dent, Lee Harvey Oswald, was shot to death when police at- tempted to transfer him to the Dallas County jail.

"Nothing surprises me after this terrible week," said Mrs. Barbara Bergmann of Milwau- kee. "But I just hope he was the guilty man."

Richard Holl of Glenview, Ill., who was visiting Milwaukee, also said he was not surprised.

"I think it was unfortunate, but expected," he said. "Violence begets more violence."

Mourn Also for Justice

And so the tragedy has come full circle. A weekend of lunacy is over—or at least we hope it is over. In the midst of our deepest mourning over the assassination violence and murder has struck again. The entire nation stands face to face with the fact that violence breeds violence and hatred inspires more hatred. And where does such a chain end?

All of us awoke this Monday morning hoping it was all just a nightmare. But instead it was a day of national mourning. And when it is over, even before it is over, we must face up to reality, the realization that each individual one of us must examine his own conscience and must rededicate himself to the authority of law and order.

How many were there among us when we heard of Lee Harvey Oswald's murder who said: "Serves him right." The man we heard saying, "I'd have done it myself," did he really mean that?

For justice has been thwarted. We will never know now as absolute certainty that Oswald was the President's assassin. We shall never know whether the target was the President or Governor Connally. Did he have accomplices? Was it part of a plot? What were his motives? What caused the bitterness that made him strike out at authority all through his short life? How can we prevent this mental deformity?

How can future presidents be secured against a repetition? How could a known Communist carry a rifle concealed only in wrapping paper into a building along the route which the President would travel? Why didn't the Dallas policeman who challenged him feel of the package Oswald said was a window shade?

Why did the Dallas police set Oswald up like a sitting duck, announcing to the world when they were going to transfer him to another jail? Why didn't Dallas policemen who knew Ruby intimately spot him in the crowd?

The national indignation demands answers to these questions. But unfortunately the questions about Oswald now will never be answered. All the more important then we have the answers about Ruby.

What a field day for the Communists and other foes of democracy. They're already charging that Oswald was killed to shift the blame from the reactionaries to the Communists. Perhaps Oswald's return from Russia to this country was contrived for a purpose. If so he was a consummate actor.

While we pray for John Fitzpatrick Kennedy, let us also pray this lunacy is at an end.

But this weekend will never — must never—he forgotten. This complete breakdown of justice, this seizure of law with rifle or pistol, is a mortal challenge to everything America is supposed to represent. Our anger, if it is really just anger, must be as great for Ruby as it was for Oswald.

The Man We Mourn Today

"I'm not a Democrat, but —"
"I didn't always vote for him, but —"
"I didn't always agree with the guy, but —"

And so the melancholy chorus goes.

Strange, isn't it, how frequently the word "I" precedes comments on the President's death?

And yet, curiously enough, the word "I" is one that President Kennedy seldom used during his lifetime.

He preferred the word "we." He frequently used the word "you." It was indicative of his character and temperament.

His was an outgoing nature. Of Irish extraction, he was quick to anger and quick to forgive. His enemies were not so quick to forgive. It was one of the contradictions of the Kennedy administration.

But then, John F. Kennedy was a man of many contradictions.

A Catholic, he was a staunch supporter of the separation of church and state.

A white man, he was vigorous in his support of the aspirations of the Negro people.

Born to wealth and position, he frequently spoke out for the lonely, the alienated, the dispossessed.

Branded a coward by his critics for his failure to risk nuclear war over the withdrawal of Russian troops from Cuba, he had a brilliant war record.

Reveled by some elements of the business community, he saw corporate profits reach an all-time high during his administration.

An accomplished historian, he was never to learn what historians would say of his administration.

An extraordinary man, he was a friend of the ordinary man.

On the government payroll since his election to the Congress, he never accepted a cent from the U. S. Treasury.

An admirer of President Abraham Lincoln, he was succeeded, exactly 99 years after Lincoln's assassination, by another President Johnson.

"I" do not mourn President Kennedy. "We" mourn President Kennedy. It is the measure of the President. It is the measure of the nation he served.

Mrs. Kennedy and the Children

Midst our prayers for the late President and our frustrations over the murders in Dallas, our thoughts today must also dwell for a time on Jacqueline Kennedy and her children.

She is the loneliest woman in the world today. What a dire change in her whole life was wrought by those bullets.

Mrs. Kennedy is no stranger to tragedy. Born and reared in affluence, she lost her father at an early age, was frustrated by miscarriages and death in her desire for a large family. But still as she accompanied her husband on a triumphal tour of Texas she was but on the threshold of a wonderful life ahead.

And now what lies ahead?

Certainly as the days pass into weeks and the weeks to months Mrs. Kennedy will have many accomplishments to ameliorate her grief. She made a wonderful family home of the White House and her contributions to its authentic refurbishing will stand for years as a monument to her occupancy. She gave new status to the role of the first lady, a new dignity all over the world to the splendor of the American wife.

And she has her two wonderful children. And in these next days and weeks and months they will need all the love she can give them.

John John is three years old today. Instead of parties and cakes and candy and presents John John is confronted today by the total finality of death. Confusing it will be for him for years to come, less confusing for his older sister. Our hearts go out to the children too today, but only their mother can give them what they will need.

How do each of us extend our sympathy to Mrs. Kennedy, say Happy Birthday to John John and Caroline?

Each of us can do so in our own way. And in doing so we will substitute at least some love for the anger and frustration we have felt all weekend.

Windowless Schools Thwart Vandals

The new Kimberly school with its minimum of windows may prove to have a different advantage than the primary ones considered when the building was designed and built. The New York Board of Education is planning similar windowless and air-conditioned buildings because its bill to replace broken panes last year was almost $1 million.

A new junior high in Manhattan will have large expanses of glass at the end of the corridors but these will be protected on the outside by perforated brick screens. Another school now being completed will have windows only toward inner courts.

The problem of intentional vandalism is nothing new for New York and a lot of other communities. For some time the school authorities in New York have been trying to devise ways of keeping the repair bills down while still not making the schools look like jails with bars and metal screens. Panes of unbreakable glass with plastic coatings were fairly successful until young vandals learned to peel off the coating with their knives and then smash the glass.

Communities in this area have had their share of vandalism and some of it has been aimed at the schools. It is a symptom of disturbance that is not easy to detect especially in the large cities with their big transient populations.

Report Battles Near Chattanooga

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Nov. 28, 1863.

The war news again is stirring and important. A great battle has been fought and a splendid victory won by our Army under Generals Grant and Thomas, near Chattanooga.

Missionary Ridge and Look-out Mountain were carried by storm, the rebels losing largely in killed and wounded and over 4,000 prisoners were taken.

The rebels retired in confusion, destroying stores, wagons, supplies, in fact everything calculated to impede their flight. We also took 52 pieces of artillery and 5,000 stand of small arms.

Our Army is in hot pursuit. The Potomac Army is moving again with indications of heavy work before them.

Goldwater Criticism of TVA Has Repercussions in Arizona

BY MAX FREEDMAN

TUCSON — For many years there has been an informal but effective alliance between the South and the West on irrigation and power development. Without this alliance Congress would never have passed many projects now regarded as essential to the entire American economy. Yet it is this co-operation which has been damaged by Senator Goldwater's criticism of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The echoes of that criticism will long be heard as politicians of both parties discuss its wisdom or stupidity. But editors and professors and businessmen in Arizona, who are more interested in the economic progress of this area than they are in politics, hope electd president of the Marion Band Boosters Club. Mrs. Herman Peters was named vice president.

Mrs. William Kositzke was elected president of the Appleton Auxiliary to the National Association of Letter Carriers. Other officers for the year included Mrs. George Weinfurter, vice president, Mrs. Walter Peotter, secretary, Mrs. George Koehler, treasurer, and Mrs. Armin Frailing, mistress-at-arms.

Bob Nehls won the individual match game bowling title, defeating Joe Strebel. Nehls averaged 211.3 pins per game in the first block and 231 pins per game in the second. He was to represent Appleton in a district meet at Fond du Lac.

S. F. Shattuck, Neenah, presented the dedication address at the new $50,000 gymnasium and second floor addition of the Neenah Boys' Brigade building. Shattuck, known as the "stepfather" of the organization, was an adviser and 36-year member.

Monday, Nov. 23, 1953.

Bass-baritone George Cox and contralto Muriel Engelland Hoile, both members of the Lawrence Conservatory faculty, were among the soloists to take part in the college's annual "Messiah" performance. That year's performance was to be the first for LaVahn Maesch as director of the 200-voice Choral Society. It was founded as the schola Cantorum by Dr. Carl J. Waterman, who retired the previous June.

Officers of the Weyauwega Library Club were Genevieve Hoeft, president, Helen Prill, vice president; Audrey Bohren, secretary, and Felice Hahn, Student Council representative.

Miss Carol Zeinert, route 2, Neenah, was elected president of the newly organized Women's Recreation Association of Wisconsin State College, Oshkosh.

Elected new officers of the Deer Creek Neighbors 4-H Club were Chuck Peters, president, Patsy Peters, vice president, Beverly Loos, secretary-treasurer, Glenn Young, sergeant-at-arms, Donna Merrill, reporter, and Marian Stilen, song leader.

the controversy over TVA will not destroy the effectiveness of the alliance on other matters.

For Arizona cannot obtain approval for the Central Arizona Project, now before Congress, without Southern votes. In the name of unity and under the leadership of Senator

Carl Hayden, the Arizona delegation in the House and Senate aimed at working together for this project. Senator Goldwater supported this effort, although he apparently always had some private doubts and reservations. With great gentleness, Senator Hayden has pointed out that Senator Goldwater's position seemed assured by his co-sponsorship of the Hayden bill. Doubts have arisen however because of Senator Goldwater's recent suggestion that Arizona could build the Central Arizona Project by itself.

GETS RIGHTS TO WATER

This suggestion was repeated and amplified by Mr. John E. Smith, chairman of the Arizona Power Authority. Still seeking unity, Senator Hayden has chosen to direct his criticism against Mr. Smith rather than Senator Goldwater.

At stake in this controversy is the development of 2,800,000 acre-feet of water in the Colorado River. Arizona received the rights to this water by a recent decision of the Supreme Court, a decision which has pleased Arizona and pained California.

The estimated cost of building the dam in Arizona has been placed at $1.2 billion. In spite of the statements by Senator Goldwater and Mr. Smith, no evidence exists that these funds would be provided by investment bankers or other private sources. The constitution of Arizona fixes the faith and credit debt of the state at $350,000. This means that public financing by revenue bonds would have to be considered by the Arizona legislature and would require a majority vote of the people in the state. These are the essential facts in the situation. They are fully understood by Governor Paul Fannin who supports Senator

Hayden's efforts to build the Central Arizona Project with Federal funds. These facts will not vanish merely because Senator Goldwater dislikes TVA or wants to cut down Washington's role in public power projects.

INVOLVES PUBLIC DOMAIN

There is another objection to the suggestion that the Arizona Power Authority might pay for the construction of a dam at Marble Canyon. Both sides of the river in Arizona are bordered by public domain. Mr. Stewart Udall as Secretary of Interior is responsible not only for protecting the public domain but also for exercising authority over the flow of the Colorado. Every aspect of this problem is familiar to Mr. Udall who comes from Arizona and served as one of its congressmen before he entered the cabinet. He can be relied upon to endorse Senator Hayden's criticism that the primary interest of those officials who are opposing federal funds for the Central Arizona Project is not the development of the state's water resources.

In an incisive editorial attack, the Arizona Daily Star has not only criticized Mr. Smith but has referred to Senator Goldwater's "unfortunate public chattering." It has reminded Senator Goldwater that "the first TVA in the United States was the Salt River Project that transformed the valley around Phoenix into a Garden of Eden. It was made possible by Congress. Since its inception, it has enjoyed tax-free status. Conceived as an irrigation project, it has now expanded into a giant electric public utility, with steam generating plants, which only this year will start paying a lien tax comparable to what TVA has paid since its inception. Senator Goldwater has been and still is one of the beneficiaries of the privileged status this Arizona TVA enjoys," since he lives and has his business in Phoenix.

Senator Goldwater's views on public power certainly need more clarification if they can provoke this kind of criticism in his own state.

Law Restricts Governor In Appointing State Savings, Loan Director

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Gov. Reynolds has learned, to his surprise and annoyance, that the law requires him to name a director of the state savings and loan department who has five years of experience in the business. In practical terms that means that he must recruit from the comparatively small staff of the agency, which may or may not include a man with the competence required to run it, or from the ranks of the private business which it must regulate.

Wyngaard

The situation seemed to him to be a curious one, reflecting an unwise law. Anybody chosen for the job would also return to the industry after his term expired, he speculated, thus compounding the doubts about securing truly independent and objective regulation and supervision on behalf of the state as a whole.

Aside from the problem in the particular situation that faces the governor, he should not be surprised about the circumstance. The laws establishing state agencies show many similar situations, reflecting the success of the pressure groups involved in writing laws to suit their own interests, actual or supposed.

AVIATION
Several recent governors have expressed some reserve about the airport planning program of the state government, as an example.

Gov. Reynolds was the last to show some irritation about what he felt was an unplanned schedule of airport construction. The last budget hearing of the department of aeronautics made it pretty clear that the department is interested more in building airports for the sake of building them, in as many communities as possible, than in an explicit pattern of air transport fitting the economic and population trends of the state as a community.

But every time the question arises, the aviation officials are able to point to the law, which quite truly directs them to build airports in the way they are doing. Who wrote the law? The aviation interests and enthusiasts, a long time ago. They pushed it through the legislature. Thus the department is able to say, literally, that it is complying with the mandate of the legislature, when in point of historical fact the legislature did not write the law, but merely ratified something that special interests had put together.

APPOINTMENTS

The idea of recognition of special interests runs through the appointment history of the state government also. Governors hesitate to name regents of the University who are not alumni. If Henry David Thoreau lived in Wisconsin today, he would not be considered a very likely candidate for a seat on the conservation commission. Professional labor union officials have sometimes been named to places on the state labor board. In an earlier era railroad brotherhoods were powerful enough to insist that one of their own should sit on the public service commission, with broad powers to regulate the railroads and the competitors of railroads.

The current state banking commissioner was a career civil servant in the department before his promotion. But many of his predecessors were professional bankers. Many insurance men have been chosen to run the state insurance department. Some of them made a pretty good thing of their experience after they returned to private life, in the insurance field.

The association of industry professionals with particular office assignments in public regulatory field is perhaps natural enough. It assures a degree of familiarity with the work. But it may also raise the question of objectivity, which is presumably what the general public wants from these institutions created for its service and protection. In some situations, there may be a parallel in setting the fox to guard the chickens.

Do We Confine Girls to Being Little Women?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Speaking of the woman's need for clothes, as I did in a recent column, it occurs to me that, beyond the effective discharge of aggressive tendencies. A girl may not be as overtly "wild" as a boy, but biologically and neurologically she needs to work out and work off her accumulated tensions.

Harris

Such working out is not considered quite proper for a little girl, although I cannot imagine why not. As a result, she is given quiet, gracious, decorative gifts which act as sedatives rather than as stimulants. And while these may seem to please her, I suspect they build up a large reservoir of resentment, and a deep sense of deprivation.

The way the girl "runs wild" when she grows into womanhood is through the socially acceptable channel of "buying spree." She purchases clothes she does not need, and may not ever wear, and is always on the lookout for the kind of novelty, excitement and ingenuity she missed as a little girl. The extensive, and sometimes flamboyant, wardrobe is a compensation for the lacks she felt, plus a retaliation against the male for having enjoyed a more stimulating "toy-hood."

All this may be nonsense, of course; I set it forth with the utmost diffidence. But I have yet to hear a more plausible explanation of woman's notorious irrationality in the buying, and discarding, of so many garments she doesn't really like and hardly ever wears.

I happen to believe that

Your Money's Worth

Dollar Value Declined During 50 of 92 Years

BY SYLVIA PORTER

In 50 of the last 92 years, the cost of living of American families has risen and the buying power of the U. S. dollar they have earned and saved has dwindled.

In only 25 years in close to a century have living costs declined and the dollar gained buying power — and these were primarily periods of national crisis in the post-Civil War era, the Post-World War I era and the great depression of the early 1930s. The number of Americans suffering deep hardship during those years dwarfed the number benefiting from the trends.

In a scant 17 of the years going all the way back to 1871 have living costs and the dollar's purchasing power been sufficiently stable to justify the claim that these basic barometers of the U. S. family's well-being held their own.

Value Lessons

Each generation born in these 92 years has had less than one chance out of 10 that the nest-egg of dollars it worked so hard to accumulate would maintain its value. The odds have been 91 per cent that the dollar's value would shrink in all the 30-year periods since 1871.

Throughout the thousands of years of recorded time, the fundamental trend of living costs has been up and the basic direction of paper money values has been down. In fact, the historian Arnold J. Toynbee reports he has never found an instance in which the value of the currency of any country in any era of history has risen over a prolonged period.

It is against this background that you must weigh the comparative stability in living costs and in the U. S. dollar's buying power in the past several years.

This stability is remarkable in terms of our own record. It is spectacular in terms of the records of underdeveloped nations and of other industrialized nations which like us have gone through two world wars in one generation.

Inflation Effects

Inflation was rampant in the U. S. following World War II and the Korean conflict. This is why today's cost of living is up a shattering 221 per cent since 1939 and 131 per cent since 1947. This is why the dollar which was worth 100 cents in the marketplace in 1939 is worth only 45 cents now and the dollar which would buy 100 cents of goods and services in 1947-49 will buy only 76 cents' worth of the same goods and services in 1963.

But we emerged from those inflation eras long ago. Not for years have prices and the dollar been battered by the pressures of severe scarcities of materials, machines and manpower, of huge pent-up demands for goods and services, of vast pools of savings accumulated only because there was little on which the savings could be spent during the wartime '40s, of an upward spiral of wages.

Let's get this point straight: there can be no absolute stability in prices or in a currency's purchasing power in a dynamic society — and ours is a dynamic society. A movement — up or down — of a percent or so over a 12-month period must be considered approximate stability. Now here's our recent record:

Price Index

In the past 12 months, the government's consumer price index — our measure of living costs — has climbed only less than 1 per cent. The index annual pay hikes and who have savings nesteggs earning 4 per cent or more a year are coming out way ahead of the economic

Johnson Talked With Atty. Gen. On Taking Oath

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Post reported in a copyrighted story today that moments after the death of President Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson conferred with the dead President's brother, Robert F. Kennedy.

The two agreed, the paper said, that Johnson should immediately take the oath that made him the 36th president of the United States.

The story, written by Executive Editor William Hobby Jr., said the attorney general and Johnson conferred by radio-telephone while Johnson was aboard the presidential plane.

costs a bit over $1.07 to buy the marketbasket that $1 would have bought in 1957-59, roughly five years ago.

In the past 12 months, the dollar's buying power has slipped 1 per cent. Its value in the marketplace is at a new low, but the erosion is now at a creeping pace. Again to put this in perspective, the $1 which bought 100 cents' worth of goods and services in 1957-59 buys under 94 cents' worth in these closing weeks of 1963.

Prices are firming. The danger of a renewed price upswing never can be shrugged off. But your recent record has been good, and as a result the vast majority of Americans who are getting annual pay hikes and who have savings nesteggs earning 4 per cent or more a year are coming out way ahead of the economic game.

"Air Force One," at Love Field mother, Mrs. Rose Kennedy, in Hyannis Port, Mass.

The oath was then administered by U.S. District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas.

The Post said that right after talking to the attorney general, President Johnson placed a call to the late President's

General Seeks Reorganization Of Air Force Reserve Program

Career Incentives, Better Training And Realistic Capability Are Goals

BY DON MCKEE
ROBINS AIR FORCE BASE, Ga. (AP)—Blunt, aggressive Lt. Gen. Edward J. Timberlake, a Force Reserve even if it means cutting down on size.

the business of maximum performance," said Timberlake who has been chief of the complex Continental Air Command—CONAC—for little more than a year.

He jabbed at a map on his office wall.

Another War
"If there's another war, we're just as likely to have a battle-field here in Iowa as elsewhere," Timberlake said.

Timberlake proposes to re-

quarters with 48 state sectors in should be based on a realistic

Reserve Program
The 51-year-old general, a war veteran and former Pentagon officer, gave his views in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press at command headquarters at this bustling base in central Georgia.

"The whole reserve program

ready reservists were mobilized: 5,000 were called up during the Berlin blockade.

With their headquarters often operating daily. Reservists fly no sense of cohesiveness, Timberlake said.

Another 29,000 are in nonflying support units. "If we had a solid ready-to-go force of 100,000 to 110,000, then we would be a lot better off than we are."

That leaves 110,000 men who are classified as "mobilization 168,000—some of which are assignees"—individuals, some ready and some not.
